RAID IN PROGRESS Monday afternoon as Granite City police detectives close the Finish Line Express, 1415 Twenty-first St., and arrest the only employee present, Queen Ester Dean, 40, East St. Louis.

Finish for the Finish Line?

Granite City police, acting on legal opinions from the assistant city attorney and the Madison County state's attorney's office, raided the Finish Line Express messenger service, 1415 Twenty-first St. Monday afternoon, and charged an employee Queen Ester Dean, 40, East St. Louis, with gambling.

The case was to be presented today to a Madison County grand jury.

Finish Line Express operates two Quad-City area establishments — in Granite City and Venice — which offer to transmit money from customers to Illinois horse race tracks where betting tickets are purchased. Winnings, if any, are then conveyed by the messenger service back to the customer.

A state law which took effect in June of this year was aimed at making such businesses illegal, but a conviction under that law was overturned by the First District Appellate Court in the Chicago area and an injunction was issued prohibiting authorities in that district from enforcing the law.

The Illinois Supreme Court is expected to review that Appellate Court decision early next year.

When the Finish Line Express office opened Oct. 27 in Venice, Police allege the establishment was accepting money to be taken to horse racing tracks for betting, in violation of a 1977 state statute.

Warning on gift apples

Parents of children who were trick-or-treating Monday night near the 2400 blocks of East 24th and East 25th streets are being warned to check carefully for needles in apples or for tampering with candy their children received.

Mary Dermott, 2417 E. 25th St., told police Tuesday that she was checking the Halloween treats received by her children and found each had received an apple with a needle in it.

The children said they had been only in the 2400 blocks of East 24th and 25th streets, Edwards Street and connecting streets.

Credit firemen with saving life of child

Two Granite City firemen are being credited with helping to save the life of a 2-weeks-old baby Tuesday.

At 8:20 p.m. Tuesday, the fire department was told a baby, John H. Goodman, 107 Briarhaven Drive, was choking and unable to breathe. The ambulance for that district was on a call at the time, so Acting Fire Captain Bill Seago and Fireman Charles Bernick took a pumper truck to the address.

Using knowledge gained in emergency medical technician (EMT) training, they kept the baby's air passage open until the ambulance could arrive and take the child to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

A new industrial plant has opened in Madison known as Brady and Jordan Engineering.

The company finishes dining, sleeping and recreation railroad cars and produces new and replacement parts for the mining industry.

A tour of the new facility located in building number two of the Fox Industrial Park was made Wednesday morning by members of the Madison city administration, representatives of local banks, Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City and Mayor William "Mike" Ebersold of Venice.

Brady-Jordan has a contract to produce 140 such cars as a sub-contractor for Mobile International of Tulsa, Okla.

The rebuilt box cars are shipped by truck on rubber wheels to the Madison plant, then attached to railroad car undercarriages and the utilities and equipment connected.

The finished products are then shipped in trains of 14, consisting of one diner car, one kitchen car, one recreational car, one combination office and sleeper car and 10 sleeping cars that hold 10 men each.

The company is employing 15 persons at present during the general set-up stage, and by the end of the first year hopes to increase this number to over 60.

According to Gene Brady, president of the company, the firm chose the Madison location when it found a building that has overhead cranes, railroad tracks that run into the building, ample space and is near mines and industries.

"Madison is geographically ideal for both the railroad and the mining portions of our operation," Brady said.

Brady is a graduate of Milliken University in administrative engineering and has worked both in the railroad machinery business and underground coal mining.

His partner Tom Jordan, vice-president of the company, formerly was heavy maintenance supervisor and shop superintendent with Peabody Coal.

Following a tour of the facility, a dinner in the Madison Firemen's hall was hosted by Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk in cold Saturday. Low about 32 and high in the 50s. Partly cloudy Sunday and Monday with lows about 40 and highs near 60 on both days.

United Way drive soars past 103%

How hot was it?

The sizzling United Way drive had such a red-hot finish yesterday that the scene of the final report luncheon caught fire.

Both stories ended happily. The campaign reached $525,468 or 103 per cent of the $508,250 goal, and still more pledges arrived later that day.

And a blazing electrical panel at the Granite City Army Installation officers' club was extinguished without major damage to the frame building.

John Blasingame, chairman of the Tri-Cities Area United Way's fall 1977 campaign to help meet member agencies' 1978 operating costs, said solicitations will continue for a week. He urged that all contacts not yet made be completed by Nov. 10.

An award plaque was presented to Blasingame by United Way President William F. Winter, who praised the drive chairman for effective leadership during the month-long campaign.

Blasingame, assistant to the Illinois Power Co. service area manager, complimented division chairmen, team captains, drive workers, staff members and contributors for their dedication to United Way service ideals.

Divisions reporting over-the-top contributions included Commercial I, Chairman Raymond Snelson, $10,855; Madison-Venice, Jack Lee and Mrs. Winnie Sasyk, $11,182; Public Service, Ronald Coleman, $24,578; Labor Participation, Joseph Simpson, $3,190; and Industrial Division, Arthur Kuhlman, $40,948.

Those virtually at 100 per cent are: Business, E. A. Karand, $28,893; Professional, Jason Blake, $14,387; Commercial II, Melvin Wilmeyer, $7,767; Mail-Phone-Transportation, Darrell Slater, $15,063; and Construction, Al Miller, $1,063.

The fire-related evacuation prevented group pictures from being taken.

Madison-Venice—Mrs. Althea Cross, Mrs. Linda Cottrell, Robert McKinney and Mrs. Marguerite Connors.

Mail-Phone-Transportation—Ernest Coons and Bernie Hinson.

Construction—Glenn Wolfe, Oscar Wilkerson, Mary Sedekum, Donald Adams, George Weiss and Gene H. Sternberg.

Public Service—Mrs. Shirley

Stoll, Gerald Brown and School Supt. B. J. Davis. Labor Participation, Mrs. Rea Morrison, John Bonvicino and Andrew Timko. Industrial—Mickey Chestovich, Doug Hill, Mrs. Nancy

Duckworth, D. L. "Whitey" Morrison, Bill Moser, Howard Schuenke, Joseph Conway, Leonard Moore, Ronald Luebben and Marnie Kilton. Morrison did double duty, helping represent Illinois Power

Co. at the meeting and then cutting electrical lines to the Officers' Club building at the request of Granite City Army Installation firemen after the kitchen blaze attributed to an interior electrical panel.

Orthodox faith led by former Madison pastor

The fifth all-American council of the Orthodox Church in America, meeting in Montreal, has elected Bishop Theodosius of Pittsburgh, a former Madisionian, as the new primate of the church to replace the retiring Metropolitan Atreney.

Metropolitan Theodosius is the 19th ruling hierarch on the North American continent and the second since the Orthodox Church in America was granted autocephaly, or full independence, by the Russian Orthodox Church. He is also the first ruling hierarch of the Orthodox Church in America to be American-born.

The Montreal meeting concluded during the weekend.

He was appointed rector of the Nativity of the Virgin Mary Church, 416 Ewing Ave., Madison, when he was ordained a priest on Oct. 22, 1961.

He served the church in Madison for most of the 1960s during which time the new church structure was built.

Father Vladimir Lecko was assigned to the Madison church and Metropolitan Theodosius was summoned to New York to work in the chancery, where he was appointed chaplain to Metropolitan Atreney and later as secretary and assistant to the chancellor.

Restaurant can build

A Granite City Council decision rejecting a plea for rezoning of a lot on Johnson Road for construction of a Taco Bell Restaurant has been held "null and void" in a Circuit Court ruling at Edwardsville.

As a result, council members Tuesday night approved a motion to appeal the ruling to the Fifth District Appellate Court at Mount Vernon.

The appeal motion carried by a vote of eight in favor and five against, the minimum number of votes required for passage.

Irvin Slate Jr., assistant city attorney, informed the council that a ruling by Circuit Judge Victor J. Moselle held that the city's zoning ordinance is "null and void" if the council wished him to file a motion for a new trial or to file an appeal.

Some council members opposed the proposal to appeal the decision, noting that they had favored the rezoning request at the time it was denied by the council in a meeting on Oct. 19, 1976, and that the city should spend the money for an appeal. Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward made the motion to appeal the ruling.

Clyde Boyd, an alderman of the Third Ward, told the council, "I was in favor of the rezoning when we voted on it before. I am against an appeal."

Glenn Sprinkle of Ward Four said he thought it would be a waste of money to appeal the Arrest two in robbery at Madison

Two youths were arrested for Madison authorities by East St.
Louis police early this morning as the result of an investigation into an armed robbery in which a number of items was taken from a Madison home Sunday night.

The arrests were made under an informational document issued by State's Attorney Nicholas Byron charging robbery.

Arrested were Otis Cartledge, 19, and Robert Bacon, 18, both of East St. Louis. Bonds were set at $50,000 each.

Madison police said two men appeared at the home of Trudy Suzanne Thackrey, 1600 block of Second St., Madison, about 11:40 p.m. Sunday under a pretense of delivering some items. Johnnie Jones of East St. Louis, who was at the Thackrey home, talked with the men.

The two men then showed a handgun and a shotgun and began removing items that included currency, a camera, a radio-clock, television set and a portable radio.

In leaving, the men forced Jones and the woman to lie on the floor and told them to count to 50 before getting up.

They took the Thackrey woman's 1972 Buick as they left the vicinity, police reported.
The car was found abandoned
Monday.

'Open primary' bus tour ends

The "open primary bus tour" is finished. During 28 days on the road, 111 Illinois cities were visited and over 3,000 miles was traveled in a special bus. Participants said today, "The trip was an overwhelming success, because of the efforts of hundreds of citizens throughout the state. We look forward to seeing everyone again in the months to come."

"Let us know if you need petitions and keep us up-to-date on how the open primary referendum is doing in your area," John Forster, of Initiative America, and Pat Quinn, of the Illinois Coalition for Political Honesty, said.

Granite City was among the cities where petition signatures were obtained to not limit primary voting to members of political parties.

ruling, noting that many of the locations in the vicinity of the Johnson Road site already are commercial.

Voting in favor of the appeal were Aldermen Whitmer, Ronald Coleman, Roy Poulos, Charles Douglas, Fred Schuman Jr., Paul Bouvier, Mrs. Margaret Nona and Lloyd Bailey.

Voting against were Aldermen Boyd, Everett Morlen, Earl Baker, Warren Decatur and Sprankle.

The suit was filed in February this year by Guy LaBr, Laura Belle Hayes and Clarence LaBr against all 14 aldermen who were members of the City Council at that time.

The petition asked the court to issue a writ of mandamus directing the aldermen to amend the zoning classification of 2021 Johnson Road from its present R-2 (residential) to C-1 (commercial) classification.

Rezoning of the tract for restaurant construction was a highly controversial issue that was killed when the council failed by a 5 to 5 split vote to approve an ordinance for rezoning. The ordinance failed to reach either a first reading or final passage stage.

In commenting upon his ruling, Judge Mosele said, "The city had set the trend in this area," noting the number of restaurants and other commercial businesses along Johnson Road.

RADIO IS STOLEN

of immigrants from Galicia. He graduated from Washington and Jefferson College and St. Vladimir's Orthodox Theological Seminary in New York, and studied at the Ecumenical Institute in Bossey, Switzerland.

He was tonsured as a monk in March 1961 and ordained to the priesthood in October that year. Father Theodosius was consecrated a bishop in May 1967.

After his Madison service, he was assigned to Alaska, where he served until 1972.

In 1970, Bishop Theodosius represented the American church at the funeral of Patriarch Alexei of Moscow, and later returned to receive the Tomos of Autocephaly, or the official grant of full independence to the Orthodox Church in America.

The election of the new primate was held at Montreal's St. Peter and Paul Cathedral on the opening day of the fifth council.

After two rounds of ballots by the delegates—241 priests, 209 laymen and 13 bishops—the names of Bishop Theodosius and Bishop Dmitri of Hartford and New England were submitted to the synod of bishops.

They retired to the altar, to make the final selection. Both bishops are American-born.

As soon as the bishops emerged and announced the decision, Bishop Theodosius was installed as metropolitan, dressed in the blue robe and white cowl of his rank. The packed cathedral sang:

"Today, the Grace of the Holy Spirit has assembled us."

In his first statement to the council as metropolitan, Theodosius called on Orthodox Christians to affirm the truth of Christ at a time many Christians "are tempted into seeking compromise and accommodation with the spirit of this world."

He also urged Orthodox Christians in America to strive for full unity at home and to help brothers deprived of human rights abroad.

"We would betray our name and our faith if we were to forget them and not extend to them our help, our support, our constant prayers," he said.

On March 10, 1961, he received monastic tonsure and was given the name Theodosius.

On March 31, 1967 he was elected to be bishop of Washington, D.C. and vicar of Metropolitan Itinerary. He was consecrated on May 6, 1967, and on June 1, 1967, was appointed vicar of the Diocese of Sitka and Alaska, where he served as ruling bishop until 1972.

A church spokesman said, "His administration saw an opening of new paths and a flowering of church life for the whole diocese after more than a half century of general oblivion and dormancy."

"Soon after he arrived in Alaska, Bishop Theodosius undertook to visit all parts of his diocese, including the most remote and remote communities in the Aleutian Islands and along the Yukon, Kuskokwim and Nushagak Rivers in the southwestern part of the state."

"His visits served to boost the morale of communities oppressed by pressure from other religious groups and from economic exploiters."

Bishop Theodosius made many of his travels in small planes and home-made boats.

In 1968, in his second year in Alaska, he summoned the first diocesan assembly in the state.

Under his administration, the number of priests in the state was increased from 12 to 22, including several village church leaders who studied for the priesthood at the cathedral in Sitka.

Bishop Theodosius also reestablished a parish in Anchorage and was instrumental in the reconstruction of St. Michael's Cathedral, the historic Sitka church destroyed by fire in 1966 and reopened last year.

Bishop Theodosius, who asked to retire earlier this year at age 65 after 12 years as ruling hierarch, said, "I feel that my strength is abandoning me and that my day is far spent and is toward evening."

Metropolitan Itinerary served the church for 61 years as priest

NEW MADISON INDUSTRY. Brady-Jordan Engineering, has located in Madison to produce these dining, sleeping and recreation rail cars by remaking old box cars. These cars are among the first units produced in its Madison Plant in the north section of Fox Industrial Park, as sub-contractor for Mobile International of Tulsa, Okla. Officials said in Russia, Poland, Belgium and Pennsylvania, as bishop of Japan from 1963 to 1966 and of Boston from 1966 to 1968 and then as primate of the American church.

He led the church through the most significant event of its modern history, the achievement of total self-government that established the Orthodox Church in America as the 15th Autocephalous Orthodox Church on Oct. 6, 1977.

The church today numbers about one million faithful, predominantly of Russian ancestry but including large groups of Albanians, Bulgarians, Romanians and Mexicans. In recent years, a number of former Episcopal parishes have joined the church.

For the 1,000 participants at the Montreal council, the election of an American-born bishop was viewed as affirming the deepening roots of Orthodoxy in America.

The Orthodox Church in America began in Alaska in 1794 with the arrival of missionaries from Alaska.

St. Herman, who was canonized in 1970 as the first saint of the American church, was one of the original missionaries.

The 5th all-American council received official notification that Innocent, a pioneering priest and the first ruling bishop of Alaska, in the early 19th century, had been canonized a saint by the Russian Orthodox Church on Oct. 6, 1977.

St. Innocent, who later became metropolitan of Moscow, is commemorated as "enlightener of the Aleutian Islands and apostle of America."

The major theme of the fifth council was "Stewardship"—to find ways and means to "establish on all levels of the life of the church the concept that everything an Orthodox Christian has is the Lord's, that all things are to be employed as the Lord commands."

Working in sections, the council discussed how members of the church can be mobilized to use a generous proportion of their time, talent and money for the work of the church on the national, diocesan and parochial levels.

The fifth all-American council was the first at which women participated as observers, and a major topic of discussion on stewardship was the role of women in the church.

Two charged

Douglas Johnson, 20, of 2128 Cleveland Blvd., was charged with driving while under the influence of drugs and following too closely, and a passenger in his auto was charged with unlawful use of a weapon and illegal possession of a controlled substance after an accident at Pontoon Road and Wabash Avenue at 2:10 p.m. Monday.

The eastbound auto of Theresa Straubinger, 2455 Pine St., stopped for a stop sign and Johnson's auto allegedly struck the rear of the stopped car.

Officers alleged Johnson appeared to be under the influence of a drug at the scene.

A pistol and seven pills believed to contain cocaine were found in the passenger's purse. Linda Butler was released on a notice to appear in court and Johnson pleaded innocent to the charges. His bond was set at $250 cash.

then announced at 4:45 p.m. Monday that the employee was under arrest on a gambling charge.

They requested access to the locked back room, but the employee allegedly denied them access until she made a telephone call. After making the call, the employee admitted them where they arrested her and confiscated seven bags full of paper.

Items seized included horse racing forms, race track programs, betting information for some Illinois race tracks, orders for race ticket purchases, tally sheets and a cash box containing $46.40.

The employee had $130 cash in her possession which she allegedly told authorities belonged to the Finish Line Express. She used $100 of that money to pay her cash bond and she was released.

Former St. Clair County State's Attorney Robert Rice, who now is in private law practice, represented County Dean as attorney for the Finish Line Express offices in Granite City and Venice.

A county grand jury was meeting this afternoon in Edwardsville studying the items seized by police to determine whether the gambling charge filed by Granite City officers is a proper charge.

LIONISM SERVES. Representatives of the Pontoon Beach Lions Club present two checks totaling $960 to Melvin C. Wilmseyer, president of the First Granite City National Bank, to be added to the Lonnice Laster Fund established at the bank. The Laster youth was struck by a train and critically injured March 16 this year. He had been in semi-conscious state since the accident but began speaking for the first time about two weeks ago. From left at the presentation Tuesday afternoon at the bank are Mrs. and Mrs. Fred Laster, parents of the boy; Wilmseyer; Larry McKee, project chairman of the fund raising; Chester Dean, treasurer of the club; and Don Patrick, immediate past president of the organization. The Lionses Club also helped in raising the money at an Oct. 26 event.

Howard M. Love, National Steel Corp. president and chief operating officer, has been elected to the Mercantile Co. board of directors. A bill to create a federal consumer agency was killed in Congress on Tuesday.

President Jimmy Carter on Tuesday signed legislation boosting minimum pay from $2.30 an hour to $2.65 on Jan. 1, eaching $3.35 by January 1981.

The U. S. Justice Department advised Congress Tuesday that it can double the seven-year period granted for state ratification of the proposed Equal Rights Amendment.

To reduce the number of needless operations, the federal government said Tuesday it will begin paying for second medical opinions on Medicare patients facing elective surgery.

The Senate Judiciary Committee voted 12-1 Tuesday to retain criminal penalties for possession of small amounts of marijuana, reversing a 6-4 decriminalizing action last week.

Granite City police are accepting burglar alarms into a new computer system, business firms are being advised.

$3,600 damage in house fire

Fire caused an estimated $3,600 damage yesterday to the home of William Barks, 1123 Meridian Ave., Madison.

At 4:05 p.m. Wednesday, Granite City firemen were called to the home, which is near the border between Madison and Granite City. Fire had started in the bathroom in the center of the house and spread to a bedroom and the kitchen.

Firemen fought the blaze for one hour and 20 minutes, containing the damage to the center of the house. It did not break through the roof.

The cause could not be determined. Damage was estimated at $2,800 to the building and $800 to the contents.

Timetables at bus shelters

Timetables are being posted by the Bi-State Development Agency in 100 passenger shelters newly constructed in its Missouri-Illinois transit service area.

Provision of the schedules is part of Bi-State's public information program, designed to attract additional riders to the 160-route bus system that carries 65,200,000 passengers annually.

The timetables of all routes serving the particular stop are displayed on a sheet of blue plexiglas inserted in a special side panel built into each shelter.

Bi-State expects to construct a total of more than 1,200 shelters over a five-year period in the two states.

It will also soon begin work on a coordinated graphics program which will lead to recommendations for providing necessary information at more of Bi-State's 15,000 bus stops.

Another key feature of the graphics program will be the creation of the agency's first bus system map in 14 years.

The timetables are also available on Bi-State buses or by writing Bi-State at 3809 Park Ave., St. Louis, Mo. 63310, or by phoning free toll-free to 875-4144.

South grabs 11th hour win from North

THE SOUTH shall rise again. South's John Prazma lofts the school's symbolic Confederate flag after his team defeated cross-town rival North in yesterday's sectional action at South field.

YBA signups Nov. 26

It's a familiar scene. The door slams and Johnny runs to his room in tears. His team just lost the championship. Here he is, all of nine years old, and his world has come to an "end" because somebody struck out... or dropped a pass... or missed a free throw. That's why the professionals at the YMCA together with members of the National Basketball Association Players Association developed the Youth Basketball Association. YBA basketball is different. In YBA basketball, the name of the game is values, participation and fun. Everybody plays.

Sign-ups for the 1977-78 YBA season at the Tri-City Area YMCA will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 26, at 2001 Edison Ave.

YBA basketball is played with nine-person teams. Every player participates a specified amount of time "so that each boy or girl has the opportunity to play competitive basketball under league conditions," said Donald R. Rains, program director.

During the season, each player has an opportunity to judge his or her own game skills as well as personal growth, ability to play team basketball, respect for each other, the referees and the opposition.

"In YBA, we teach respect for an opponent simply because, if there is not opponent, there is not game," said Rains.

No players are "cut" or not allowed to "make" the team. When boys or girls sign up for the YBA at the YMCA, they are automatically a member of a team. Parents or guardians are involved in league play as volunteer coaches, team and league managers and in other capacities.

Designed by the YMCA with help from the NBA Players Association, the concept was fully tested before play began two years ago. In the initial seasons, there were more than 100,000 participants in about 400 YMCAs.

"YBA was an instant and overwhelming success because too many kids had suffered through being told they 'weren't good enough' to play other sports, or coaches wouldn't let marginal players have an opportunity.

"In the YBA, we frankly don't think a 10- or 11-year-old kid is emotionally ready to accept either the false adulation of a championship victory or the bitter sorrow of defeat. We think basketball is a fun game and it should be played that way," said Rains.

Information, registration, fees, adult volunteers and other facets of the YBA may be obtained at the Tri-City Area YMCA, 876-7290.

In field hockey sectional action...

South loses 5-0; North plays today

The season ended yesterday afternoon for the Granite City South girls' field hockey team, beaten by host Edwardsville in the sectional semifinals, 5-0. The game was played at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

All but one of the Tigertettes' goals came in the first half. Any one of them was enough to tame the Warriorettes.

GCNS North's field hockey Steelercettes will be in sectional semifinals action this afternoon. They square off against Mascoutah at 4 p.m. However, if clouds develop, the starting time might be pushed up to 3 or 3:30.

The winner of the game this afternoon will play Edwardsville for the championship Friday afternoon, also at 4.

Somebody HAD to win. That's the way all sporting events are conducted. There is a winner and a loser.

But yesterday afternoon, there were no losers. Even though one team was ahead on the scoreboard after time ran out, even though one side of the field was jubilant and the other was languishing in the agony of defeat, there were no losers. Not in a game that was played as well as it was by both teams.

But in the record books, there was a winner. Granite City South. The defending state champions. They pulled off an amazing rally late in the game to come away with a hard-fought 2-1 victory over the "other guys" in town...the soccer Steelers from North in the IHSA South Sectional.

But it appeared from the outset that perhaps it was going to be one of those games that somebody might not win...it was that close.

In fact, it was so close that nobody scored until the fourth quarter. There were just over seven minutes remaining in the game when the first goal was scored.

It came from South's Mark Goldschmidt. He took a pass from teammate Greg Feigl at point-blank range in front of North's superb goalie, Mike Hill.

Hill didn't have a chance. In fact, he probably didn't even see the shot. He was tangled up in a pile of players in front of the net.

NOT QUITE. Just over a minute later, in a mad rush around the South net, the Steelers' Jeff Demott booted in an unassisted goal at the 6:05 mark to pull the Northsiders even and give them momentum.

"Darkness was beginning to envelop the Warriors' field, and there wasn't much time remaining. Would the Steelers go into a defensive game and try for the tie? No."

"I guess if anybody's to blame for this, it's me," said North coach Bob Kehoe. "We could have gone for the tie and then come back tomorrow."

"But it's the nature of any sporting event to go out there and win, and I don't like to play for ties."

SO NORTH went right back at the Warriors, but it backfired.

With just under a minute remaining, and darkness everywhere, a roar erupted from the South cheering section. The Warriors had scored. They were ahead.

The hero was Greg Feigl who, as he has so many times this season, was in the right place at the right time.

The place this time was to the left of goalie Hill. He slammed in the winning goal for the Warriors at the 19:02 mark of the fourth quarter.

"This kind of thing is hard to swallow," said Kehoe. "When a group of guys has trained and worked as hard as these, there's nothing I can say to them, to console them."

BUT SOUTH coach Gene Baker didn't have a bit of trouble swallowing. But then again, he's not finished, either. "This was a good win," he said. "But we'll have to put together a good game to win Friday."

The opposition Friday will be supplied by Collinsville. The Kahoks booted Quincy Notre Dame Tuesday afternoon in the sectional's first game, 3-1.

Gary Wallace gave Collinsville the lead 10 minutes into the first period off an assist by Bobby Sova. And after playing much of the period in their own end, the Kahoks suddenly had themselves a 1-0 lead.

THAT MUST HAVE spurred them on. After the Wallace goal, the Kahoks forced the action to the Raiders from Quincy.

At the 2:25 mark of the second quarter, Greg Bohnenstiel had a chance at his first goal of the game, but a diving save by the Notre Dame goalie thwarted the attempt.

Just as the half ended, the Kahoks made another mad rush at the Raiders' goal.

A Jim Steinwagner shot appeared to have the Quincy goalie beaten, but he made another magnificent save to keep the score 1-0.

But six minutes into the third quarter, Steinwagner found the range and booted one into the net for a 2-0 Collinsville lead.

THE RAIDERS came alive in the final quarter, forcing Kahok goalie Dave Leary to make several key saves including one at the 14:00 mark of the period that saved what looked like a Quincy goal.

But the Collinsville kickers came right back just five minutes later. Wallace, who scored the first Kahok goal, booted a shot off the Quincy goal post just inches from a score.

At the 7:28 mark, Wallace found Steinwagner looming just left of the goal, passed it to him and the result was a 3-0 Collinsville lead.

Carl Kravens spoiled the shutout when he scored an unassisted goal at the 5:58 mark of the period.

South's Baker said that a decision had already been made by the referees that if the game had ended in a tie, it would have been called because of darkness and played over in its entirety today.

"I think the muddy field may have hurt them more than us," Baker said. "They need a fast field."

"I think that we're better on short passing, but they've got the edge in overall speed and long passing." "I'll tell you," Baker added, "this team (Souths) has had to come through a lot to get here."

"They've hung together through a tough schedule, the probation thing, there's a lot of unity on this team."

But wouldn't it have been nice if both teams could have won?

Cougars open basketball season

Dudley under investigation

Now Jim Dudley had another problem to overcome.

An investigation is under way into the use of food money by the SIUE basketball coach.

The investigation was ordered Tuesday after the Daily Aftonian, the school newspaper, published a copyrighted story charging that food records for the past two seasons had been falsified.

The Aftonian reported that a fund was established from excess money from padded food bills. It was allegedly used for recruitment and other purposes.

One alleged use was sending players home for various reasons, a practice not allowed by the National Collegiate Athletic Association, of which SIUE is a member.

The investigation was ordered by SIUE President Kenneth Shaw, who said that he would have no further comment on the matter.

SIUE Athletic Director Bob Guelker said that he could not comment on the matter because it was still under investigation, but that "this shouldn't be taken as either an affirmation or denial of the published report."

Dudley was unavailable for comment.

The study by the SIUE office of internal audits will include the whole range of athletic-related expenditures and spending policies, a spokesman for Dr. Shaw told the Press-Record yesterday.

the game to the Cougars. SIUE lost to Kendallree 80-88 in that contest.

The Cougars have two senior starters back, although neither was really a starter all season. Vince Barnett from Decatur and Dave Starkey from Normal. Both are 6-7 and should give Dudley a lot of help, he believes.

Two other big returns, 6-4 sophomore center, and 6-6 Jim Downey, both played enough to earn letters and showed flashes of play that could win them starting berths.

In an effort to fill in some gaps in his lineup, Dudley recruited three junior college players and five freshmen.

Southwestern Illinois area basketball fans already know one of them, 6-4 Bennie Lewis who played some brilliant basketball for East St. Louis' Lincoln High. The other two JC players are 6-2 Jeff Verstraete and 6-5 Mike Waldo. "I expect Lewis, Verstraete and Waldo to step right in and compete for starters' berths," said Dudley.

Freshmen recruits include 6-7 Denton Brasel, 6-6 Terry Johnson, 6-3 Steve Seobko, 6-2 Neil (younger brother of Keil) Peebles, and 6-1 Allen McCarron. Dudley predicts that these five have the potential to earn a starter's spot "if they work hard enough."

Two other members of last year's squad, 6-2 Kevin Pawlow and 6-2 Terry Baggett, should help the Cougars, Dudley said.

Pawlow saw considerable varsity action late in the campaign.

A transfer who will become eligible in January, 6-5 Wardell Carter, is expected to bolster the squad.

Overall, it appears that the Cougars may be able to return to the running, aggressive style of play that Dudley likes to see.

Here's how Dudley sees it overall: "We hope to combine a pressing defense with a running game and a team-oriented offense with a great deal of balance. Our inside game, though, will have to improve sharply if we are going to compete with the upcoming schedule. Team balance at both ends of the court is what I'm seeking."

Nine of the teams we'll play this year participated in some kind of post-season tournaments last year."

SIUE fans will be delighted that they won't have to wait until 10 or more games have been played before they can see their team perform. Last season, the Cougars played 13 of their first 14 games on the road.

The SIUE cage schedule includes nine home games for the Edwardsville High court and competition in three tournaments.

The opening night opponent Nov. 30 will be strong Missouri Baptist College.

The three tournaments will include a two-day affair at Rensselaer, Ind., in the St. Joseph College meet, Dec. 9-10.

After Christmas, the Cougars will make their second straight appearance in the Lake Shore Classic in Chicago and hosted again by Roseville University, Dec. 28, 29 and 30. Late in the season, SIUE will be at the University of Missouri, Kansas City, meet to be played at KC's Municipal Auditorium court.

Highest ranking (NCAA, division one) schools on the SIUE schedule again are St. Louis University and Illinois State University of Normal.

Kahoks no pushovers for Warriors tomorrow

By PETE HAYES
Press-Record Sports Editor
For coach Gene Baker and his South soccer Warriors, the road doesn't get any easier tomorrow afternoon.

After their rousing victory over cross-town rival North yesterday, they have to take back to the field Friday afternoon against a pesky Collinsville team, 3-1 winner over Quincy Notre Dame in Thursday's sectional clash.

"I think Collinsville is a much-improved team," said Baker. "They're a sleeper."

It'll be a rematch of last season's sectional final in Jacksonville. That time, the Kahoks gave South all they had and almost pulled off a win. The final was 3-1.

There are only three regulars back from that Collinsville team of a year ago. But what a crew...

THE KAHOKS are led by leading scorer (21 goals) Greg Bohnenstiel, Gary Wallace and Brian Hess.

Bohenstiel, senior, also does overtime as the football team's placekicker.

"Against Quincy Notre Dame, they played a 4-4-2 offense for the first time that I know of," said Baker. "But the main thing is that they did it well."

Whatever the Kahoks did against Quincy Notre Dame, it worked. They dominated play from the outset and outmaneuvered the Raiders' defense all afternoon.

"Like I said, they're a real sleeper," Baker commented. "They haven't really played a real, tough schedule, but don't let that fool you. They're a good soccer team."

"I SAW THEM play against North earlier in the year, and they gave them a rough game, even though they lost (2-0). And we had to come from behind to beat them just a couple of weeks ago right on this field."

"Collinsville has a good lower-level soccer program and it's beginning to show some dividends."

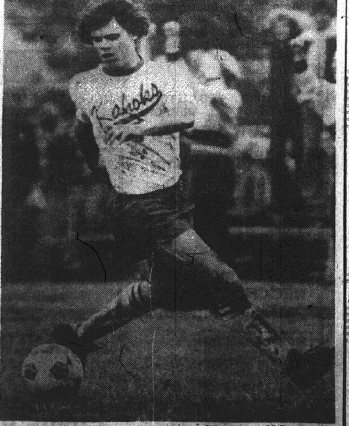

"And you'd better believe they'll have a good crowd out here to back them. They have a good following and they're gonna be sky-high."

BUT WHAT ABOUT SOUTH? Will it be a problem to motivate a team that has just come off an emotionally draining game, such as the one against North?

"No," said Baker. "I don't think it'll be an emotional letdown. In fact, there's not a whole lot of time to get prepared physically, so we have to do it mentally."

"And besides, we've been there before, and we like it."

"We want to do it again."

GREG BOHNENSTIEL

FAST AND FURIOUS action was the main course yesterday during the North-South sectional clash. Here, South's David Mendoza (left) and Steeler Bob Bates scramble for the ball during third quarter action.

Oh, it's just the neighbor kid

Picture this: It's fourth-down-and-goal. The University of Illinois Fighting Illini are driving for the game-winning touchdown. The crowd of over 75,000 is on its feet, roaring with every play. Illinois quarterback Kurt Steger fades back to pass. He spots his receiver open in the end zone.

With enemy defensive linemen hovering all around him, Steger hurls the ball into the end zone. It's complete for a touchdown... to your next door neighbor?

BEFORE YOU LAUGH yourself silly thinking about your own next door neighbor in a football uniform, remember, it is possible and in fact has happened several times this season to a young man who is the neighbor of many people in Granite City.

His name? Tom Schooley. His occupation? Student and member of the varsity football team at the University of Illinois, The Fighting Illini. His hometown? Granite City, Illinois.

Just two years ago, Schooley was catching passes from a different quarterback, Keith Champion. The team for which he was catching those passes was Granite City High School South.

After graduation, in 1975, Schooley decided on attending the U of I on a football scholarship. He isn't sorry.

"I THINK there's as good a football program here as anywhere," Schooley told the Press-Record. "We have the nucleus to contend for the Big Ten title in a couple of seasons."

The Illini have undergone some changes in the way they do things since Schooley arrived on the scene last year. They fired head coach Bob Blackman and brought in virtually a whole new group of coaches, among them head coach Gary Moeller, a former assistant at Michigan.

What's the biggest adjustment that Schooley has had to make since the change? "I think there's a little more discipline on the players now," he said.

"Coach Moeller keeps pretty good tabs on us. But I think we're more intense as a team."

But what about changes that Moeller has made on the field? "We passed quite a bit more last year under Blackman," Schooley stated.

"Moeller likes to run the option-style offense, where the quarterback has the option of passing or pitching off at the last second to a running back. No doubt about it, we don't pass nearly as much."

That could make Schooley, a receiver by trade, a little unhappy. "Not at all," he said. "Oh, I wish we passed a little more, but I think we'll be winners with the system we have."

We just have to work the kinks out of it."

Schooley is quite modest when it comes to talking about himself. He gives the bulk of the credit not just to two men: his father, William Schooley, a Granite City attorney, and his high school coach at South, Wayne Williams, now at Alton High. "Coach Williams really helped me a lot while I was in high school," said Schooley. "He stayed with me and told me that he knew I had the stuff it takes."

"And my dad has helped me all along, getting me interested in football and always being interested in what I was doing."

What's the biggest difference between high school football and college football — Big Ten style?

"THE SIZE, no doubt about it. In high school, you might have two or three guys on the team who were really big... you know, 6-2, 230... but up here, everybody's big."

"And quick, too. The hitting's much harder."

"There are so many different offensive and defensive formations and so many variations off of each one that a player has to be thinking all the time in order to make it."

Despite the fact that the Illini don't pass as much as in the past, Schooley is the team's leading receiver with 12 receptions and one touchdown. That TD is one that he'll remember for a long time.

It came against Purdue on Oct. 15 and helped the Illini beat the Boilermakers 23-22.

"I'd say winning that game is the highlight of my career here," said Schooley. "It was at Purdue, where it's always hard to win, and it was their homecoming game on top of that."

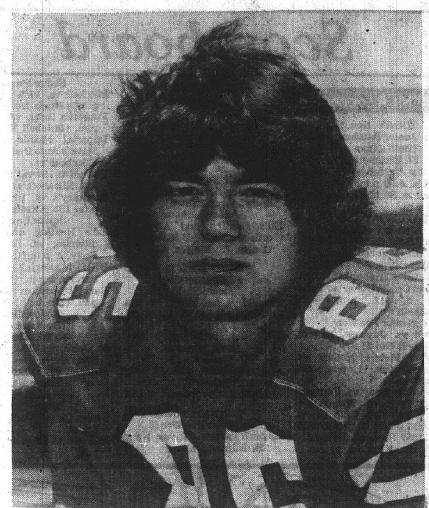

"I guess you could say that we had an added incentive," he said. "We were 25 point underdogs going into the game."

Schooley said that with all of his activity with the team, he has to study extra-hard to make it academically.

"It's easy to fall behind, what with road trips and all that. I just have to study that much harder."

But who knows? Maybe in a couple of seasons he'll be doing his homework on a December flight to Pasadena for the Rose Bowl.

Whelan, Graham, Seebold named as best in their fields

Dan Dierdorf, Hale Irvin and Jimmy Roberts are among 16 sports figures chosen as the top performers from the greater St. Louis area in their respective fields.

Voting by local sportswriters and broadcasters picked Dierdorf as the best in pro football, Irvin as the top in golf and Roberts as the standout in hockey.

Craig Virgin of Lebanon and the University of Illinois made it five-in-a-row as he again captured the track and field polo.

Other winners were Neil Fiala in amateur baseball, Ben Cowins in amateur football, Jim Tietjens of Oakville High School in amateur soccer, Al Trost in pro soccer, Bob Bone from the U. of Missouri-St. Louis in basketball and student Khis Whelan from Granite City North in wrestling.

Also selected as best in their categories were Juan Farrow, of SIUE in tennis, speedboat champion Bill Seebold Jr. (formerly of Granite City) in motor sports, Nelson Burton Jr. in bowling, Larry Graham from Madison basketball in the high school coaches' category, and college and pro coaches and Gene Barth from the National Football League in sports officials.

All of the award recipients will be saluted at the 28th annual Elks sports celebrity night Thursday, Nov. 17, in the Chase-Park Plaza Hotel.

Major presentations will be made to Lou Brock as the Number One St. Louis Sports Figure of 1977 and R. Hal Dean as winner of the Bruce Campbell Memorial Award.

Jack Buck will be the toastmaster.

Proceeds from the banquet are used to buy new shoes for underprivileged children. Tickets at $15 apiece may be ordered from the St. Louis Elks Lodge No. 9 Sports Committee, 5601 Fairview, St. Louis, Mo. 63139.

South basketball season tickets on sale now at school office

Season tickets for the 1977-78 GCHS South basketball season are now on sale, it was announced today.

There are three ways to purchase seat with his/her name on it.

For $15.50, the buyer will have a reserved seat for all home games, but without the name affixed. For $12.50, the buyer will be admitted to each home game, but will have no assigned seat.

YMCA joggers at 410 miles

Physical Director Ed Mercer reports the following people had a 100 per cent fitness class attendance record for the week of Oct. 24-31 at the YMCA: John Morion, Alan Smith, Robert Patton, Ron Johnson, George Gregus, Dan Mitchell and George Wolfe.

Also, the following have not missed a class since starting their fitness endeavor: Robert Patton, Ron Johnson, George Gregus, Dan Mitchell and George Wolfe.

The total number of miles now jogged in the fitness class is 410 miles.

Season finale for South, MHS; North in homecoming Saturday

The football season will officially end this weekend for two of three of the Granite City area high school teams. For the other, it will climax next week.

Both Granite City South and Madison will conclude their grid campaigns tomorrow night. The Warriors play host to Pattonville, Mo. in an 8 p.m. game, and the Trojans travel to Dupont to tangle with one of the area's toughest teams.

South will be trying to salvage the final game and end the season on a winning note. The Warriors record stands at 3-4.

The Trojans, meanwhile, will be trying to finish the season above the 500 mark for the first time in a long while.

After winning three out of their first four games, they spluttered, but came back to life last week's win at St. Charles West, 7-6. Their record is 4-4.

THE MAIN ATTRACTION should be Saturday night. That's when North's Steelers play host to St. Mary's of St. Louis. In "their" annual homecoming game.

Game time is set for 7:30 p.m., with many of the usual homecoming festivities to surround the contest.

The Steelers are coming off a victory in the North-South game and will be trying to make their record 5-4.

Cougars and Bills battle for Bronze Boot Friday

For the third time this collegiate soccer season, the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Cougars will be spotlighted in the No. 1 game nationally this week when they battle the powerful St. Louis University Bills, tomorrow night at Washington University's Francis Field.

The SIUE vs. SLU match, which is also the annual prestigious "Bronze Boot" Game, has been chosen as the nation's "game of the week" in soccer by the Association of Collegiate Soccer Coaches.

Last Saturday, the "game of the week" was SIUE's knock-down-and-drag-out battle with the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee Panthers.

Wisconsin won that one in a real thriller, 3-2, for the Panthers' first victory over the Cougars in their five-game series. Half a month ago — Oct. 15 in fact — the Cougars' game with Quincy College, which SIUE won 2-1, was also the "game of the week."

A victory for SIUE against St. Louis U. is almost a must if the Cougars hope to remain in a strong position for a post-season NCAA Midwest Regional tournament berth. Right now, Cleveland State and Indiana U. are cinched for the No. 1 and No. 2 berths. This leaves the third and fourth slots up for grabs between SIUE, St. Louis U. and the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

Like all comparative scores, the situation at the top of the collegiate soccer picture is hardly clear. In the Midwest regional rankings (just out Monday), for example, here's how they stand: No. 1—St. Louis U., 12-2-0; No. 2—Quincy College, 12-0-0; No. 3—U. of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, 12-4-0; No. 4—SIUE, 8-3-1; No. 5—University of Missouri, St. Louis, 9-2-1; U. of Wisconsin-Green Bay, 11-2-2; and Eastern Illinois U., 7-4-0, tied for sixth and 7th; No. 8—Southern Methodist U., 9-2-1; No. 9—Western Illinois U., 7-3-1; and No. 10—Rockhurst College, 11-2-0.

The Clemson University Tigers, who defeated the Bills last week, are back in strong contention for the Number 1 spot nationally. Indiana University, meanwhile, lost ground by being tromped 5-0 by Cleveland State University, a team with a victory this season over St. Louis U.

Indiana and St. Louis will battle it out Nov. 11 in a rain-delayed game. It is also noteworthy that the Cougars defeated the Hoosiers 1-0 in an exhibition game which was hard-fought as if it were for the national title.

In their loss to Wisconsin-Milwaukee, the Cougars won the battle of the statistics but came up short in goals.

It was American (SIUE) players against foreign imports, and the Native Sons lost it. In fact, it was almost one man against the Cougars, namely one Milan "Doc" Stojanovic.

He had a hand in all three Panther goals. And his pass to Teheran, Iran's Ali Nouri-mohamadian with less than six minutes remaining, set up the winning goal. Doc scored one goal and had to assist.

Granite Cityans score for BAC

The Belleville Area College soccer Dutchmen were defeated by Lewis and Clark College yesterday 5-2 in the junior college Region IV southern sectional title game.

Both goals for BAC were tallied by Granite Cityans. The first was scored by Mike Austin and the other by Mike Voegelé. Both came on penalty kicks.

Rascals in action

One of the four Granite City Rascals boys tackle football teams has already clinched their division championship and two others hope to do so here this Sunday at the South High School football field.

The Rascals Midget team held off the upset minded Knights 22 to 18 at Belleville earlier this week to nail down first place in the North Midway division of the Tri-County Jr. Football Conference. The Rascals now with a 6-0 record will travel to Collinsville this Sunday for a 3:30 p.m. game against the Raiders who have a 5-3 record.

The Pee Wee North team is also tied for first in their division with the Belleville Knights with 6-1 records. The Rascals will host Cahokia here Sunday in a 2 p.m. game.

The Jr. Pee Wee South team defeated Cahokia here earlier this week to give them a 4-4 record could finish in third place in their division with a win when they travel to Fairview Heights Sunday at 1:45 p.m.

Lakeview begins volleyball and cage campaigns

Lakeview Christian Academy (2910 Highway 111) Patriots journeyed to Festus, Mo., during the weekend to begin their 1977-78 basketball and volleyball seasons.

David McCaslin, a freshman, scored 18 points and Glen Gray, a junior, tallied 14 points as the basketball Patriots bowed to the Twin City Christian Academy Eagles 43-25 after a 29-16 halftime score.

Lakeview girls won 9-15, 15-13 and 15-3 over Festus in volleyball.

Youth, 18, charged

Larry M. Jordan, 18, of 2009 Blackwell St., Madison, was charged with resisting arrest and disorderly conduct after he and his dog allegedly scuffled with a police officer in the 2000 block of Washington Avenue at 12:56 a.m. today.

Officers first were called by two residents of the 1900 block of Edwardsville Road who said a youth with a black German Shepherd had been causing a disturbance and upsetting dogs in the yard.

When the neighbors told him to leave the alley, the youth allegedly used profanity and threatened them. Patrolman J. W. Apperson found a youth at 20th Street and Lee Avenue and stopped to question him. One of the Edwardsville Road residents who reported the initial disturbance arrived and the youth allegedly used profanity and threatened the man's life.

Apperson attempted to arrest the youth and alleged he threatened, "If you come near me, I'll sic my dog on you." Profanity allegedly continued as the youth backed up, then turned and ran.

Granite City Steel security personnel who had arrived to assist Apperson, radioed for additional policemen as Apperson, on foot, chased the youth and dog.

In the 2000 block of Washington Ave., the youth allegedly stopped and commanded the dog to attack Apperson. The patrolman reported he was able to dodge several charges from the dog and used a flashlight to hold the dog back.

He said he told the youth to call the dog off, or he would have to shoot it, but the youth allegedly said the dog was going to get Apperson down and the youth then would kill him.

Apperson noted a crowd had gathered and did not dare fire his gun for fear of injuring someone. The officer then managed to back the youth and the dog against a fence and held them there until additional officers arrived. He and the dog were taken to the police station.

While booking the youth, he allegedly resisted officers attempting to take his possessions and threatened another officer's life.

The dog was released to Jordan's mother.

Mrs. Ahring heads Off-Campus advisers

Mrs. Julie (Marz) Ahring was elected chairman of the Career Advisory Council Off-Campus Education, Granite City School District 9, at its quarterly meeting last week at Charlie's Restaurant.

Mrs. Ahring succeeds Bob Jones as chairman.

The latter was congratulated for an "excellent job as council chairman" by Donald Shaffner, coordinator of the Off-Campus Education program, expressed the appreciation in behalf of the school district.

The council's new chairman is a former student in the Off-Campus Education program and the first former student to hold office.

While at South High School, Mrs. Ahring also completed a course as a beautician, training at the Granite City School of Beauty Culture.

After high school, she continued her education in the field of cosmetology and presently is employed as an instructor at the Granite City School of Beauty Culture.

Arrangements made for the annual recognition banquet held earlier this year were reviewed and Shaffner noted more than 400 people were served within a 45-minute period at the South High cafeteria.

In other business, copies of guidelines adopted by the Granite City Board of Education were distributed by the coordinator, who said the emphasis is being placed on reasons why students become involved in the Off-Campus Education and job-related directives.

A discussion ensued about changing jobs, loss of jobs and attendance requirements at school and at the job training station.

Material to be compiled into a brochure detailing the Off-Campus program is being prepared, it was announced. The brochure will be used to explain the program to prospective employers, parents and students.

The council members set the next meeting for Jan. 10, 1978, at 6:30 p.m. at Charlie's Restaurant.

AWARD FOR SERVICES is presented by Don Shaffner, left, Off-Campus Program coordinator of the Granite City School District, to Bob Jones, retiring president of the Off-Campus Advisory Council.

Succeeding Jones as council president is Mrs. Julie Ahring, right, who was elected at a meeting last week.

3-car accident

Mrs. Virginia Molohan, 34, of 3807 Kirkpatrick Homes, was injured when her auto was involved in a three-vehicle accident in the 2700 block of Madison Avenue at 2 p.m. Tuesday.

Her vehicle and the auto of Michael Ross, 2041 Park Ave., collided and Mrs. Molohan's auto was knocked into the parked car of Robert Harris, 4037 Kathy Drive, Pontoon Beach, authorities reported. She was taken by Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where she was admitted with a cut to her chin and with pain to her abdomen, which struck the steering wheel.

Ex-resident dies in crash

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Monday at the Calvary Baptist Church in Tremont, Ill., for Mrs. Karen June Duncan, 22, of Harrisburg, Ill., formerly of Granite City.

She was injured fatally at 6:40 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 27, in an auto accident. Mrs. Duncan was driving on a highway near her home and in an effort to miss a deer, which darted in front of her car, she swerved her car which collided with a tractor trailer truck, according to a family spokesman.

Mrs. Duncan was born in Granite City and was a daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Virgil (Bobbie Jean) Graham. Rev. Graham formerly served as pastor of the Bend Road Baptist Church here.

Other survivors include her husband, David Duncan; four sisters; one brother, her maternal grandmother and an aunt, Mrs. Lenore Welby and an uncle, Floyd Graham, both of Granite City.

Burial was in Steenburge Cemetery, Mount Pulaski, Ill.

VICTORY NUGGETS From God's Word

"Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some; but exhorting one another; and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching." Hebrews 10:25

A decision by a railroad company to discontinue a line that ran through a farm community was opposed by a farmer. At the hearing the railroad representative asked the farmer, "How long had it been since he shipped anything on the railroad?" Oh, "replied the farmer, 'Never did.' "When have you ridden on it last?" "Oh, about 15 years ago," replied the farmer. "I just like to see it pass by." So many people are just like the farmer. They like to know that the church is there, but they don't want to help keep it there.

Combined federal campaign succeeds

Each year federal employees throughout the nation participate in a Combined Federal Campaign held in conjunction with United Way campaigns, and employees of the U.S. Army St. Louis Area Support Center (TSARCOM), Granite City, participated in the 1977-78 East-West Gateway CFC with a great deal of enthusiasm, leaders reported today. The campaign comprises all federal employees in the metropolitan St. Louis area. A total of $4,853 was contributed by 216 employees of the local Support Center.

Plant sick? 'Doctor' will aid it here Nov. 8

The Granite City Park District will begin a series of indoor plant care Tuesday, Nov. 8, at the Nameoki Recreation Center. The classes will be from 7 to 9 p.m. and gifts will be given each evening. The first session will be called, "Bring Your Sick Plants to a Clinic."

Wayne Siefert, horticulture specialist for the University of Illinois in this region is inviting everyone to bring plants they are having problems with to the clinic. He, along with another specialist in the field, will analyze the problem and try and come up with a solution for the ailing plant. A park spokesman said, "If you do not have trouble growing houseplants, you will still enjoy the series and find it helpful and informative."

Many people have trouble when bringing their plants indoors during the fall of the year," Siefert comments, "and this will be their chance to find a water-based asphalt designed to save energy and reduce air pollution, according to Jesse Celis, Shell's senior process engineer for start-up of the plant.

Area officials see environmental advantages of water-based asphalt

About 60 state and county highway officials and Illinois asphalt contractors toured the new asphalt emulsion plant at Shell Oil Company's Wood River refinery during the weekend.

The new plant manufactures

Meeting at the Holiday Inn in Collinsville before touring the plant, the group heard Cliff Taylor, a staff engineer from Shell's Product Development office in Houston, explain the advantages of the new Shell product, called Shell Pave.

"Emulsified asphalt is a mixture of water and asphalt which greatly reduces the need for petroleum distillates used in other forms of asphalt," Taylor told the group. He said the reduction or elimination of distillates saves energy because the high heating requirements of other asphalt are not necessary, and the petroleum distillates can be diverted to other uses. "When asphalt mixed with distillates begin to cure," Taylor said, "fumes evaporating from the asphalt add to air pollution. Water evaporation from emulsions causes no pollution problems." Other advantages of emulsified asphalt, he said, include faster curing times, safer, acid-resistant surfaces, and the ability to apply the asphalt to damp pavement or damp aggregate.

Celis explained to the group how the asphalt cement and water are mixed at the new Wood River plant to form a homogeneous fluid. "The physical principle is the same as that used in making homogenized milk," Celis said. He said the process for making emulsified asphalt has been available since 1963, but that the product's range of uses has just recently been developed to a point that the new products made at Shell's Wood River refinery.

Jerry Welborn, Shell's senior commercial sales representative, also pointed out that the uses of Shell Pave are not limited just to roadways.

"In soil stabilization, it can be used as a mulch treatment either alone or as a tie-down for straw," Welborn said. "It will help reduce erosion and maintain soil stability while seeds germinate."

In road paving, Welborn added, a variety of different seals can be obtained with emulsified asphalt, including chip seals, sand seals, slurry seals, and fog seals.

In chip seals, the emulsified asphalt bonds to stone chips and holds them firmly in place to provide a strong, skid-resistant surface.

Sand seals, Welborn said, are used with a thin asphalt emulsion treatment to improve skid resistance of slippery pavements and seal against water and air.

Slurry seals — a mixture of slow-setting asphalt emulsion, fine aggregate, mineral filler and extra water — are used to fill cracks and sealed areas of old pavements.

When an otherwise sound surface begins to ravel, Welborn said, a light application of water-diluted asphalt emulsion called fog seal fills the voids between the stone and seals small cracks.

Thomas Gordon dies at 65

Thomas S. Gordon Sr., 65, of 2513 Jerden Ave., ill for five years died at 9:35 a.m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital where he had been a patient two weeks.

He was born in Stewart County, Tenn., and resided here 37 years.

Mr. Gordon was employed 11 years as a shop foreman at the Garad Corp., St. Louis.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Gordon; two sons, Thomas Gordon Jr. of Madison, and George Gordon of Granite City; three daughters, Mrs. Phyllis Boone, Mrs. Russell (Carolyn) Kastings and Mrs. Russell (Sandra) Fleming all of Granite City; two brothers, George M. Gordon of Granite City and Reginald Gordon of Louisville, Ky.; 11 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Blood-pressure screening class

A workshop on "Sphygmomanometry: Facts and Skills for Teachers" will be held at SIUE Nov. 16 and 30.

In cooperation with the Illinois Heart Association and the Illinois Department of Public Health Division of Disease Control, the workshop is a pilot project to train teachers to conduct workshops for blood pressure screening instructors.

On Nov. 16, sessions will be held in the Mississippi Room of the University Center from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m.

The Illinois Room of the Center will be the site of the Nov. 30 sessions, meeting from 9 a.m. until noon.

Registration for the two-day course is $8.50. Enrollment will be limited, and applications will be processed on a first-come, first-served basis. Participants attending both days will earn nine contact hours of continuing education credit.

MR. AND MRS. ORVILLE LOWE of 567 Carl St., Collinsville, formerly of Madison, who observed their golden wedding anniversary at a reception at the Croatian Hall, hosted by their children.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville (Julia) Lowe, 567 Carl St., Collinsville, former residents of Madison, received about 90 guests at an afternoon reception given at the Croatian Hall, in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Hosting the event were their sons-in-law and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Louis (Dorothy) Shabo and Mr. and Mrs. James (Elsie) Marlette.

A smorgasbord dinner was served by Mrs. Dorothy Voloski.

The honorees also have eight grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Among the guests attending were the guests of honor granddaughter, Mrs. Sherri Cowan and her husband, Bill Cowan, their daughter Kimberly, and another granddaughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Gary (Debra) Scranton and daughter Melissa Terry, all of Bloomington, Ill., a grandson and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Richard (Toni) Shabo and daughter, Erica Shabo.

Another granddaughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn (Andrea) Lackey and son Buddy Lackey of Granite City, and other granddaughters, Dana, Michelle, Nikki and Jamie Marlette.

Autumn party of Granite Chapter

Granite Chapter 650, Order of the Eastern Star, officers were dressed in Halloween costumes for the weekend meeting of the chapter held at the Masonic Temple.

Presiding at the session were Mrs. Maxine Compton, president, and Charles Youngs, worthy patron.

Frances Williams and Velva Pieper Browner were accorded special honors as 50-year members and were presented with 50-year chapter pins, by the officers.

Mrs. Mary Bilbrey, secretary, announced another 50-year pin had been taken to Gertrude Muhl, who was unable to attend the meeting.

Others escorted and introduced were Martin Lowe, worthy patron of New Hope Chapter, grand chapter committee members, grand lecturers and past matrons and past patrons.

A memorial program was conducted for Mrs. Ida Bell Hager, who died last week. The worthy matron announced an election of officers to be held at the Nov. 11 meeting in open at 7:30 p.m. She also extended appreciation to Florence Spahr who will serve in the office of Electa for the remainder of the year and to Blanche Lane who participated in the meeting as warder for the evening.

Following the meeting members and guests retired to the dining room which was decorated in a Halloween theme, for an autumn party.

Host committee for the evening were Mary Ann DeHart, John DeHart, Cleveland Cox, Charles Youngs, Glenna Jean Olson, Frankie Hickey, Clifford Hickey, Elsie Slaggs, Peggy Gibbons Louise Orr, and Bonnie and Jerry Esler.

First aid is meeting topic

The Granite City Educational Secretaries heard a program entitled, "First Aid Without Panic" presented by the Long Lake Fire Department, Emergency Corps. Chief, Mike Karlechik during a monthly meeting.

Members met at Lake School for the session with Mrs. Lucille Caban, president, presiding.

Plans for a Christmas party set for Dec. 5, at Tony's Restaurant, were discussed.

Mrs. Caban, Frieda Andrews and Catherine Wittewengel, attended the IAES conference held in Rockford, Ill., on Oct. 21-22, it was noted.

Refreshments were served following the business meeting by hostesses Phyllis Pickens, Marge Burdge and Candy Kawula.

Milton Haleys mark 45 years

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Haley, 4203 Maryville Road, were honored on their 45th wedding anniversary at a dinner party given last week at Charlie's Restaurant.

Hosting the affair were the honoree's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cook of Pleasant, Mo.

Also attending were friends of the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Erney, Mrs. Leona Cartwright and Otto Hensley.

Volunteers needed for Mobile Meal program

Volunteers working in the Mobile Meals program delivered approximately 45 to 50 hot noon meals daily to handicapped or needy senior citizens during September, bringing the monthly total to 900 meals, according to the Rev. Dr. Paul Surbey, chairman of the project.

To provide meals for the growing number of recipients, a fifth delivery route has been added. By dividing the list of homebound persons into five routes, the geographical area of each team of volunteers is greatly reduced, the chairman added.

Additional volunteers are needed to continue the expanding program. Volunteers have been from churches, fraternal and civic groups and organizations, it was noted.

The board of directors is making an appeal to area residents and interested persons who are not affiliated with any organization, but who would be interested in assisting with the program, Rev. Surbey said.

Volunteers drive daily for one week, or a person alone may register to assist a driver in carrying the hot meals from the cars into the homes.

Anyone who is interested in participating in the area wide project are advised to call the Protestant Welfare office at 876-8770 for information and the schedule, Rev. Surbey said.

Persons interested in receiving meals may call Catholic Charities at 877-1184, he added.

Rev. Surbey announced, "The Businessmen at Madison plan special sale

The Madison Business Association (MBA) at their meeting Tuesday morning in the Madison Memorial Center decided to hold a pre-Christmas sale on Tuesday, Nov. 15, from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m., according to Wayne Scannell, president.

Scannell also reported that the day after Thanksgiving on Friday, Nov. 25, Santa Claus will take up residence in his "Alpine" cabin on the corner of Third Street and Madison Avenue.

The MBA is looking for a retired person to work about two hours a day as "Santa's" helper during the pre-Christmas season. Persons wishing more information may contact Scannell at 432-7110.

Solid waste to be topic

The Bi-State Development Agency has invited 100 persons to attend the initial meeting of a citizens' advisory committee on solid waste on Wednesday, Nov. 9, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon in the Greater St. Louis Health Systems Agency office, 915 Olive St.

The meeting will involve representatives of trash-hauling firms, counties, municipalities, environmental interest groups, Civic Progress and the St. Louis County Commission on Solid Waste Disposal.

Bi-State has been suggested as a possible participant in a proposed plan to convert trash into electricity, and it recently appointed Dr. Joseph Eigner to the newly-created post of director of the solid waste project management. Civic Progress is a private group of corporation chief executives.

During the gathering a representative of the Union Electric Co. will review the present status of a former "trash-to-energy" project.

Other speakers will report on current trash disposal in the metropolitan area. The participants will then form small working groups to examine specific parts of the trash disposal issue.

The sub-groups will meet during the next two months and are expected to report their findings to Bi-State's board of commissioners in January.

District Amvets meet in Madison

Amvets Post 204 of Madison will host the Amvets Fifth Division meeting Sunday at 2 p.m. in the home at 1242 Iowa St., Madison.

Division Commander Lester Davis of Post 4, Mount Vernon, will be in charge. The local Ladies Social Club will serve refreshments after the meeting.

Vasil C. Graville, commander of the Madison Amvets, has asked all members to attend.

The division's Ladies Auxiliary also will meet Sunday at the Madison Amvets Home.

Services held for former resident

Funeral services were held Oct. 29 for Mrs. Frieda Schwaner, 48, of Lake Jackson, Tex., formerly of Granite City. She died at her home on Oct. 27, following a three-year illness.

Survivors include her husband, Stanley Schwaner; two sons, Larry Schwaner of Caseyville, Ill., and Michael Schwaner of Russellville, Ark.; four daughters, Mrs.

Adeline Hubbard, Russellville, Mrs. Emily Courtwright of Dardanelle, Ark., and Patty and Kathy Schwaner, both of Lake Jackson; her mother, Mrs. Maria Bronnauer and four brothers, John, Richard, Heinz and Alfred K. Bronnauer, all of Granite City; and three grandchildren.

Burial was in Rest Haven Memorial Park, Russellville.

Diving Club awards banquet Saturday

The Bubblemasters Diving Club will host its 18th annual awards banquet Saturday evening at the VFW Hall, Granite City, according to Phil Lamm, president.

A cocktail hour will be held from 6 to 7 p.m., followed by dinner. Awards for the year will be presented from 8 to 9 p.m.

Election of officers also will be held, the president added. The top award to be given during the ceremony will be the "Diver of the Year" honor. Five trophies also will be presented to those who speared the largest fish during the months of May through September.

Appreciation awards on behalf of the president, the "Novice Diver of the Year" and honors in an underwater photography contest also will be presented.

Traveling trophies, a feature of the awards program will be presented to members who speared the largest fish at the Memorial and Labor Day dives.

Dancing to the music of "Free and Easy" will be from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Those interested in attending the dinner are advised to contact Sharon Earney, entertainment chairman.

Woman economic analyst to address GC Optimists

Miss Lillian B. Green, known in the American steel industry for her work in economic analysis, will be the speaker at the Thursday, Nov. 10, meeting of the Granite City Optimist Club in the YMCA at noon.

Miss Green is a consultant to National Steel Corp., working out of the Granite City Steel Division.

For many years she was executive assistant to the chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Granite City Steel Co., and subsequently of the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel.

Her responsibilities there included functions of a staff. She was the only woman in the basic steel industry to hold a position of such stature.

She also was in charge of the Analytical Department of Granite City Steel. The duties of this department included general economics, internal forecasting and the handling of a variety of problems requiring special analysis.

Miss Green was one of 25 women business leaders from all over the U.S. invited to the White House in February 1975 for a discussion of their ideas and recommendations in dealing with business and the economy today.

Miss Green was selected as one of St. Louis' 10 "Women of Achievement" for 1976, and named as "one of five outstanding women in the Greater St. Louis area" by the St. Louis Metropolitan Business and Professional Women's Club in 1968.

She is a member of the St. Louis Society of Financial Analysts, the American Statistical Association and the National Association of Business Economists. She has written on economic problems in the steel industry for the Financial Analysts Journal and other publications.

Public auction at GCHS South

An assortment of furniture, lamps, linens, silver, books and other items purchased in the 1960s for the home economics department at Granite City High School will go on the auction block at 11 a.m. Saturday at Granite City High School South.

The public auction will be held on the Grand Avenue side of the high school. Among the items to be sold is a Governor Winthrop desk with a secretary top, Duncan Phyfe china cabinet, dining table and side board, a four-poster bed with mattress and springs, a mirror, a Windsor rocker and chair, a chest of drawers and other items.

The school's Home Economics Club will sell refreshments during the auction.

Clean water discussion at Carlyle

Local-level water pollution problems, solutions and costs for cleanup measures will be addressed by a newly-formed Illinois Environmental Protection Agency regional advisory committee (RAC) for clean water planning in south-west-central Illinois.

RAC members, who are representatives of local governments and of public and special interest groups, will hold their first meeting Thursday, Nov. 10, at 7:30 p.m. at the County Annex Building on U.S. 50 across from the Clinton County Courthouse, Carlyle.

The group's primary job over the next year is to help set local and regional priorities for solving water pollution problems from farming practices, construction sites and mining areas as part of IEPA's state planning program.

"Agriculture is an important part of the economy of south-west-central Illinois and a possible contributor to water pollution," comments William Sullivan, RAC coordinator for the IEPA.

"RAC members will be examining agricultural practices for possible impacts on local water quality."

An RAC subcommittee will be formed to assess IEPA agriculture task force recommendations for controlling agricultural water pollution, based on a year-long problem assessment.

RAC members will examine recommendations in light of local and regional water pollution problems and feasible solutions.

Members will also be asked to advise the state on classifications for various stream uses and water quality levels to be maintained, according to Sullivan.

For example, some waters may be classified for recreational use and others for industrial use. Water quality levels could be different for each.

"Local people are needed to help develop a workable plan for controlling water pollution in local areas. Economic and social considerations which need to be addressed to develop viable solutions are best dealt with by the people who have to live with the tradeoffs involved," Sullivan added.

Land management programs, new regulations, economic incentives or education programs in the state plan will affect such economic interests as agriculture, energy and construction as well as those of the individual citizen.

RAC members can help channel local concerns to state planning groups, he stresses. At the first meeting, members will be asked to identify specific concerns about clean water planning. "We really want to hear how the people in the area feel about clean water and other goals they may have. Most of my time will be spent listening to these concerns," Sullivan said.

He also will give an overview of the state planning program for cleaning up water pollutants, as well as an explanation of the RAC role in plan development.

The state clean water plan to make Illinois' waters suitable for swimming and fishing by 1983 is required by 1972 amendments to the Federal Water Pollution Control Act. It must be completed by the fall of 1978.

South faculty at conference

Miss Helen Velloff and Mrs. Helen Cook, both of the Granite City High School South English department, served as chairman of two of the 50 discussion groups at the Illinois Association of Teachers of English fall conference during the weekend in Decatur, Ill.

The theme for the conference was "Reflections and Projections, the Proven and the Promising."

Miss Velloff's group discussed teaching language skills by television. The speaker for the session was Bud Bartlett of the Illinois Office of Education.

The theme of Mrs. Cook's group was "Teaching Rhetorical Patterns Through World Literature" with Charlotte Tibbels as a resource speaker.

Dr. James R. Squires an internationally-known English educator and Mrs. Margaret Walker Alexander, best known for her Civil War novel "Jubilee," were featured speakers.

Mrs. Cook and Miss Velloff are both active in the Illinois Association of Teachers of English and have been attending similar conferences since 1974.

The two South staff members will give a report of the conference at the November meeting of the South English department.

GC suggests hiring purchasing agent

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

A suggestion that Granite City employ a full-time purchasing agent to coordinate bidding procedures and purchase of supplies and equipment was considered by the City Council in a regular meeting Tuesday night.

No action was taken on the proposal but Mayor Paul Schuler said he believed the idea, which was suggested by Third Ward Alderman Roy Poulos, "is a good one and should be pursued."

The mayor said he believes the council should give further consideration to the proposal with a view toward providing for such an office in the 1978-79 city budget.

Poulos proposed the plan after the council authorized the purchase of 75 gallons of white paint for street striping at the request of Street Superintendent Lionel Portell and the Street and Alley Committee.

Clyde Boyd, chairman of the committee, said that the paint is needed to stripe school crossings and crosswalks and that the work is urgent. He said a call for bids would take too much time.

The purchase was approved after Portell told the aldermen that the paint which will be bought meets specifications of the Illinois Department of Transportation.

He said the paint is needed immediately so that street department workers can paint new school crossing lines and do other striping work that is needed urgently.

He noted that purchases of paint earlier this year that were made without bidding under state specifications "have been straightened out" and that bidding procedures will be established.

Portell said he was making the request in council session "because I remember not so long ago someone said there would be no checks signed for paint purchases unless the paint was bought on bids."

Mayor Paul Schuler commented, "I was the one who said that, but in this case the paint is needed now. We are going to have to start buying it on bids. Even if you solicited proposals 'I'm sure they (the state) would recognize it. But we haven't even done that.'"

The mayor indicated he would approve payment for the 75-gallon paint order, but suggested that something be done about bidding for paint supplies.

Earlier this year it was disclosed that purchases of paint by the street department did not comply with state DOT requirements under which the city was eligible for refunds to help finance a paint striping machine purchased about a year ago.

The machine was bought in a state program that provided for payment for part of the cost of paint if bought under state bidding procedures. The council learned that the requirements had not been met and that the city had lost thousands of

Moore on education television commission

George E. Moore Sr. was appointed by the Illinois Board of Higher Education Tuesday to its new 12-member Commission on Education Television.

Moore, 1929 St. Clair Ave., was elected to a fifth consecutive three-year term on the Granite City Board of Education in April. A past president and treasurer, he is currently the board's secretary.

He heads the Prayer Breakfast Group of the Granite City Rotary Club and is a past president of the Marshall School Parent-Teacher Association, Granite City Area Council of PTAs, National Federation of Federal Employees Local 770 and the Southwestern Division of the Illinois Association of School Boards.

The commission will advise the Board of Higher Education regarding the need for educational TV stations, funding of such stations and related matters.

Prior to his retirement in 1971, Moore served 25 years in supervisory and management positions at the Granite City Army Depot.

A Navy veteran of World War II and the Korean war, he has taught supervisory personnel management for Belleville Area College.

Mrs. Thelma Miller dies

Mrs. Thelma Miller, 76, of 2309 E. 24th St., died at 4 p.m. Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital where she had been a patient three weeks. She had been ill several months.

Mrs. Miller had been in the intensive care unit recuperating from surgery when she suffered a heart attack.

She was a former floral arranger at Bob's Flowers in Granite City and other flower shops and for many years assisted her husband, Ryal Miller, in operation and bookkeeping for the former East Side Garage, East 24th and August streets.

Surviving besides her husband, are a daughter, Mrs. Betty Townsley; two sisters, Mrs. Laura Lewis and Mrs. Bob

Charter for Trade Zone is presented

The Tri-City Regional Port District last night was presented with its Foreign Trade Zone grant.

The ceremony took place at a monthly meeting of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce board.

Don Loo of the U.S. Department of Commerce made the presentation to Port Manager Carl Ranft, representing John N. Bellocq, chairman of the Port District.

In making the presentation, Loo applauded the efforts of the district, saying that it took the Tri-City Port to put the project together, where others had failed.

Ranft, in accepting the grant, indicated that the Foreign Trade Zone will benefit the economy of this region on both sides of the Mississippi River. Also present, representing the Port District, were Development Manager George Andrus and Burton C. Bernard, a port commissioner here.

City ok's $1.2 million in development projects

Cost of building the downtown overpass was estimated at $6 million Tuesday night as City Council members approved a resolution providing that $500,000 of Community Development grant funds sought by the city be applied to the overpass project.

The resolution approved the $500,000 for the overpass, while a second resolution authorized the use of $500,000 in grant funds for "neighborhood improvements" in an area designated as "Old Nameoki Town."

That project will involve Community Development funds for drainage improvements and street improvements in North Granite City and in the Briarcliff and Melrose subdivisions off of West Pontoon Road and from Nameoki Road to Wabash Avenue.

The $650,000 authorization also includes funds for purchase of a fire engine for the West Granite Area. Another $50,000 is provided for housing rehabilitation.

Monroe Brewer, city engineer, said the Community Development funds will be sought in an application filed with the Madison County Community Development office. The federal government has authorized a total allotment of $12.3 million for Madison County.

That will be divided among townships and municipalities to finance projects listed by the separate agencies. The total sought for Granite City amounts to $1,250,000.

The resolutions which constitute forms required by the government were approved unanimously.

The funds for which applications are now being filed will cover a three-year period. Brewer said that the money will be made available for authorized projects in allotments that will be established by the county on the basis of the amount of money made available by the government each year.

"We don't know when we will get the money. It will be divided over three years and can be of different amounts each year," Brewer said.

Plan street resurfacing

The Pontoon Beach Village Board at a special meeting Tuesday evening authorized the Sheppard, Morgan and Schwaab engineering and consulting firm to take core samples from streets in the Lakeview Estates area and prepare estimates of the cost of improving drainage and resurfacing streets there and in other areas of the village.

The special meeting was called to discuss the costs of a proposed program to blacktop most of the village's streets using a combination of community development, motor fuel tax and state highway funds.

Challenge suit to block appointment

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

A motion filed yesterday in United States District Court, Southern District of Illinois, requests the court to dismiss a lawsuit which is attempting to force Madison County to assume control of the Metro-East Sanitary District Board of Trustees.

Robert Eastern of St. Clair County, the only East St. Louis member of the sanitary district board, filed a suit in Circuit Court, challenging a law which gives the county having the highest assessed valuation in the district majority control of the board.

Recent assessment totals show Madison County has a higher assessment for the first time since the district and its predecessor, the East Side Levee and Sanitary District, were created.

St. Clair County always has had three members on the five-member board and the suit seeks to keep the control in St. Clair County by challenging the constitutionality of the law giving three board seats to the county with the higher assessed valuation.

The case was transferred by leave district attorneys to federal district court, where they felt a more impartial hearing could be heard.

Yesterday's motion was filed by David H. Adamson III of Granite City, special attorney for the sanitary district and for Nelson Hagnauer, chairman of the Madison County Board and Vic Canby, chairman of the St. Clair County Board, who are named respondents in the suit.

He states Eastern "lacks standing" to sue because, "The plaintiff has accepted the benefits of office under said organization; has voted pursuant to the provisions of said statute; has accepted compensation for his time under the statutory enactment; all of which he now alleges are, and which if his allegations are correct, were unconstitutional."

The motion notes that Eastern's suit asserts that the rights of black St. Clair County residents will be prejudiced by a change in the board, but notes it fails to show any law or ordinance which would prevent Hagnauer from appointing an East St. Louis black, so the argument is without any legal standing.

Adamson's motion also contends that Eastern "is not entitled to any equitable relief," since he has served on the board under the law and "is asking this court to preserve the un-constitutional enactment of the state of Illinois; so that, he may retain his position thereunder."

It states the relief sought by Eastern from the court "is not congruous with the allegations."

Eastern's suit contends it would be unconstitutional for Hagnauer to appoint a member to the board and for a Madison County resident to serve in the controlling position. Adamson said in his motion that it would not be unconstitutional since Hagnauer, by law, would be free to appoint a St. Clair County resident to the board and Canby would be free to appoint a Madison County resident, if they chose to do so.

Adamson also contends Eastern cannot file a class action suit on behalf of all residents, taxpayers and voters in that portion of St. Clair County because he failed to give them proper notice under the due process clause of the 14th Amendment.

The motion to dismiss concludes with the statement, "If the allegations of the plaintiff (Eastern) are true and correct then the voters of Madison and St. Clair counties were defrauded when establishing the Metro-East Sanitary District and the East Side Levee District since said municipal corporation was established by vote of the residents of each County, pursuant to the representation that the chairman of the county board would appoint based upon the assessed property valuation."

Woman robbed of $400

A young man representing himself as a security guard forcibly took about $400 cash from Faye Schneider, an employee of Wayside Tavern, 2160 Washington Ave., Monday as she stopped at Jack-in-the-Box Restaurant, 3330 Nameoki Road.

The employee said she was enroute to the bank's night depository and stopped to eat when a black auto with three young men in it stopped beside her auto and the driver got out and demanded to see her driver's license.

She said she asked why and the man said he was with the security division. When she refused to show her license, the man pulled her out of the car and they fought over her purse, which broke into two pieces during the scuffle.

The young man then grabbed an envelope containing the money and personal papers, got into the auto and drove from the scene.

The robber was described as about 21 to 25 years old, with blond hair and of medium height and build. He drove a dark auto, possibly, a Buick Riviera.

Broader educational opportunities planned for handicapped children

By SEYMOUR SARASON, Ph.D. and JOHN DORIS, Ph.D.

We give below a summary of the Education for All Handicapped Children Act, P.L. 94-142, a federal law.

The summary was prepared by the Children's Defense Fund (1976), an agency which, as its name implies, seeks to protect and enlarge the rights and opportunities of children.

On Nov. 22, 1975, the Education for All Handicapped Children Act (Public Law 94-142) was signed into law. This law builds upon, expands and will eventually replace the Education of the Handicapped Act, including Part B which provides assistance to states, as amended by the Education Amendments of 1974 (Public Law 93-380).

P.L. 94-142 became fully effective on Oct. 1, 1977 (fiscal year 1978).

Both laws are extremely important for children who are handicapped, or misclassified as handicapped by their school districts, and for parents of these children because the laws—

1. Require states to provide special education and related services to children with special needs.

2. Provide financial assistance to states and local school districts to develop appropriate programs and services.

3. Establish and protect substantive and procedural rights for children and their parents.

To be eligible for money under EHA-B, a state must develop policies and procedures in a "state plan" to insure that the requirements of the law are carried out in every school district in the state (whether or not that school district actually receives EHA-B money).

State plans must be available to the public for comment and then submitted for approval to the federal Bureau of Education for the Handicapped (BEH) in the U.S. Office of Education.

The state plan must demonstrate that the state has established and will enforce the following:

1. Full Services Goal — a goal of providing all handicapped children with "full educational opportunities"; at least 50 percent of the EHA-B funds must be given to children who are receiving no education at all (i.e., are not in school) and children who are severely handicapped.

The plan must provide a timetable showing how services, personnel, equipment and other resources will be developed and assigned in order to reach "full services."

2. Due Process Safeguards — policies and procedures describing due process safeguards which parents and children can use to challenge decisions of state and local officials about how a child has been identified, evaluated or placed in a special education program.

These safeguards must include:

a. Prior notice before a child is evaluated or placed in a special program.

b. Access to relevant school records.

c. An opportunity to obtain an independent evaluation of the child's special needs.

d. An impartial due process hearing to challenge any of the decisions described above.

e. The designation of a "surrogate parent" to use these safeguards for each child who is a ward of the state or whose parent or guardian is unknown or unavailable.

district can show that the use of a regular educational environment accompanied by supplementary aids and services is not adequate to give the child what he/she needs.

4. Non-discriminatory Testing and Evaluation — procedures showing that tests and other materials or methods used to evaluate a child's special needs are neither racially nor culturally discriminatory.

The procedures should also assure that whatever materials or methods are used, they are not administered to a child in a discriminatory manner.

5. Confidentiality of Information about Handicapped Children — procedures to guarantee that information gathered about a child in the process of identifying and evaluating children who have special educational needs, is kept confidential.

State procedures must conform to regulations, issued in the February 27, 1976, Federal Register by the Commissioner of Education.

These include requirements that parents must be given the opportunity to see relevant school records before any hearing is held on a matter of identification, evaluation or placement of a special needs child.

These regulations also apply to the requirements of confidentiality of information under the Education for All Handicapped Children Act.

6. Full Services Goal — "free appropriate public education" must be available to all handicapped children ages 3-18 by Sept. 1, 1978, and to all handicapped children 3-21 by Sept. 1, 1980, unless they are 5-year-olds and 18-21-year-olds, "inconsistent" with state law.

States must place a priority in the use of their funds under this Act on two groups of children:

(1) Handicapped children who are not receiving an education and

(2) Handicapped children with the most severe handicaps, within each disability, who are receiving an inadequate education.

3. Due Process Safeguards — As of Oct. 1, 1977, the policies and procedures describing due process safeguards available to parents and children in any matter concerning a child's identification, evaluation or placement in an educational program must include:

a. Prior notice to parents of any change in their child's program and written explanation in their primary language, of the procedures to be followed in effecting that change.

b. Access to relevant school records.

c. An opportunity to obtain an independent evaluation of the child's special needs.

d. Opportunity for an impartial due process hearing which must be conducted by the SEA or local or intermediate school district, but in no case by an employee "involved in the education or care of the child."

In any hearing, parents have the right to be accompanied by a lawyer or any individual with special knowledge of the problems of special needs children, to confront, compel and cross-examine witnesses, and to obtain a transcript of the hearing and a written decision by the hearing officer.

Parents have the right to appeal the hearing decision to the SEA and, if they are still dissatisfied, the SEA ruling in federal or state court.

e. The right of a child to remain in his/her current placement (or, if trying to gain initial admission to school, in the regular school program) until the due process proceedings are completed.

f. The designation of a "surrogate parent" to use the procedures outlined above on behalf of children who are wards of the state or whose parents or guardians are unknown or unavailable.

g. Least Restrictive Alternative — handicapped children including children in public and private institutions, must be educated as much as possible with children who are not handicapped.

4. Non-discriminatory Testing and Evaluation — the tests and procedures used to evaluate a child's special needs must be racially and culturally non-discriminatory in both the way they are selected and the way they are administered; must be in the primary language or mode of communication of the child; and no one test or procedure can be used as the sole determinant of a child's educational program.

5. Individualized Educational Plans — written individualized educational plans for each child evaluated as handicapped must be developed and annually reviewed by a child's parents, teacher and a designee of the school district.

The plan must include statements of the child's present levels of educational performance, short- and long-term goals for the child's performance, the specific criteria to measure the child's progress.

Each school district must maintain the records of the individualized education plan for each child.

6. Personnel Development — comprehensive system to develop and train both general and special education teachers and administrative personnel to carry out requirements of this law must be developed by the state, and each local school district must show how it will use and put in effect the system of personnel development.

7. Participation of Children in Private Schools — free special education and related services must be provided for handicapped children in private elementary and secondary schools if the children are placed or referred to private schools by the SEA or local school districts to fulfill the requirements of this law.

The SEA must assure that private schools which provide programs for handicapped children meet the standards which apply to state and local public schools, and that handicapped children served by private schools are accorded the same rights they would have if served in public schools.

Before taking up provision of the law we should warn that in federal law is very complex containing many provisions concerning, for example, priorities, time schedules, funding levels, design site and testing practices, advocacy for children, parental role, etc.

This law, related to and superseding a previous federal law, goes into effect in October of 1977.

In late 1976 the federal regulations, spelling out in detail the criteria by which the law will be administered, were published.

Those regulations determine the confines and substance of the law, and required state plans and regulations required of local districts.

Congress passed a law, the executive interprets and administers it, and so on down the line.

At every step of the way, one is dealing with interpretations of interpretations. At this time it is impossible, obviously, to evaluate the law's consequences.

In digesting these discussions we could come to only three really firm conclusions.

First, there was unanimity that the law would have massive consequences for public education, although there was no unanimity on what these consequences would be.

Second, implementation of the law will require an equal massive increase in time, energy and paperwork for everyone.

Third, despite the funding provisions in the law, the long-range effect will be to require local school districts to increase their school budgets.

Plans for rail signal approved

The Illinois Department of Transportation has approved plans of the Illinois Terminal Railroad for installation of electric warning signals on Namecki Drive at the Terminal tracks, City Council members were told Tuesday night.

The council received a letter sent by the DOT to W. O. Pearson, chief engineer of the Illinois Terminal, which noted that the estimated cost of $24,708 and plans for the installation have been approved, but that work is not to start until the DOT has approved detailed plans for circuitry installation.

The site of the new school is near the intersection of Illinois Highway 159 and Interstate 55-70.

The first phase will consist of nine classrooms, administrative offices, a teachers' lounge and multi-use space which will serve as a library and audio-visual room as well as a place for daily mass. Area of the first phase is 14,228 square feet.

The present enrollment plans are to have kindergarten through fourth grade and add a grade each year until kindergarten through eighth grade is achieved.

Present enrollment projections indicate that the second phase of construction, an eight-classroom addition, will be needed in about three years.

Four-room clusters will permit team teaching plus a conventional classroom setting. Structural system and building materials have been selected to allow as much construction to proceed through the winter as possible.

This will include one-story skeleton frame steel construction with steel roof joists and metal decking. Exterior walls will be light-gauge steel studs with moisture resistant gypsum sheathing to give the building weather protection through the winter, after which masonry veneer can be applied. Roofing will be a sheet rubber membrane system which can be applied in cold weather. Interior partitions will be light steel studs and gypsum wallboard with selected protective wall covering.

Ceilings will be lay-in acoustical panels. Floors will be vinyl asbestos tile, carpet and ceramic tile. Windows will consist of insulating glass in hollow metal frames.

The project is scheduled for completion by Aug. 16, 1978. Architects are Pistru, Conrad and Gebauer, in Clayton. Construction manager is Robert F. Bohnerlich.

Introducing AOLITE Ultravue

PROGRESSIVE POWER LENS

WHAT MAKES THE ULTRAVUE LENS BETTER THAN THE CONVENTIONAL BIFOCAL?

For one thing, it offers superior visual properties — there's no reading segment line to "get used to," so there's no confused or split image, or sudden extremes in magnification. You have clear vision at all distances, with minimal distortion around the edges. Then there is the design of the lens itself. It has a wide reading area; there's no visible segment line and it's designed to be used with the fashion look of today. The ULTRAVUE lens is made of optical quality hard resin. It is light in weight (half the weight of glass), impact resistant, and available in a wide range of attractive colors and tints. All in all, the ULTRAVUE lens has the versatility to meet your personal needs and preferences, without sacrificing superior optical performance. Nobody ever has to know that you're wearing a bifocal lens. It's your secret.

WE HAVE A SPECIAL PLAN FOR THOSE OF YOU WHO HAVE PURCHASED CONVENTIONAL BIFOCAL LENSES IN THE PAST 3 MONTHS FROM US. A SPECIAL ALLOWANCE WILL BE MADE IF YOU WISH TO SWITCH FROM CONVENTIONAL BIFOCALS TO ULTRAVUE LENSES.

Chamber board begins new year

The Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce board began its new year last night with a dinner meeting at the Sunset Hill Holiday Inn with a film and talk on construction of the Alaskan pipeline.

B. J. Davis was program chairman and the speaker was Ed French of Conoco Oil. President Roger A. Higgins presided.

Support was voiced for efforts to eliminate new messenger service offices related to horse race tracks, and Dr. George T. Wilkins Sr. gave a detailed review of Business-Industrial Education Day, attended by 700 teachers.

Tours of plants were featured along with talks by Harold Briggs, Dr. Lillian Green, Stanley Cohen and Carl Mathias, with Leo Kozner as master-of-ceremonies. Dr. Wilkins said. He said that next year it is proposed that businessmen visit local schools.

The 1977 annual meeting was discussed by Maurice Dailey and Harley Davis reported on the yearly audit and on membership relations.

Kozner said personnel planning is continuing, and David Partney said an answer is still being awaited on a federal inter-agency disagreement said to be delaying a St. Clair County phase of hillside drainage. Drainage ditch improvements in this area are being urged, he added.

Dale Arnette said a Service Corps of Retired Executives has been formed and initial contacts have been made with small business seeking advice from the new group.

David Fox noted that downtown produce sales proved successful this summer and fall, and will be resumed in May. Students responded with many colorful parking meter decorations for Halloween, he said.

Mrs. Vargas dies at home

Mrs. Verna "Robin" Mae Vargas, 46, of 811 S. Morrison Ave. Apt. B, Collinsville, a relative of Granite City residents, was pronounced dead at 11:20 a.m. Tuesday in her home by Madison County Deputy Coroner Paul Kasey. The coroner's office estimated she had been dead 12 to 14 hours. Collinsville police and the Madison County coroner's office are investigating the death. Police found her on the floor in the bedroom of her stepbrother, Gary Sidwell, 27, who is confined to bed.

Survivors include her husband, Mario, a son, Ben, Gale Stephens of Granite City; three daughters, Mrs. Leonett Baker, Cottage Hills, Robin and Rhonda Stephens both of Pocatento; her mother, Mrs. Mildred Sidwell, Collinsville; a brother, Robert Stone of Pontoon Beach; two other stepbrothers, Larry and Jerry Sidwell, both of Granite City, and a stepfather, Mrs. Cheri Thornton of Belleville.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Friday at a Collinsville funeral home. Burial will be in Mount Albin Cemetery, Greenville.

North High crowns new king and queen

Before a capacity audience in the Memorial Auditorium last night, North High School senior Marcy Bunch was crowned as the school's homecoming queen for 1977. Selected as King was Doug Rains.

After North students' presentation of "Meet Me In St. Louis," the queen and king were crowned and the court was presented to the audience. Miss Bunch is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bunch, 701 E. Chain of Rocks Road, Mitchell.

She is active in many of the school's clubs and sports, including service as president of the North Student Council. She participates in girls' field hockey and is captain of the team, and also belongs to the girls' track team.

Miss Bunch is a member of the National Honor Society and Silver Spirit Club.

As a college prep major, she plans to continue her education after graduation this spring. Rains is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adrean Rains, 138 Arlington Drive.

He has lettered three years in both baseball and football and is a member of the Letterman's Club.

He plays quarterback for the North High football team.

Rains is a member of the National Honor Society. He has majored in mathematics and science.

Members of the court for 1977 are: Susan Orchoa, Pamela Tester, Cathy Messina, Laura Allen, Dottie Dyar, Jane Marshall, Cindy Morris and Colleen Lind.

Robin Smith, Mike Baker, Steve Hartline, Rusty Gregory, Tom Fonder, Randy Gay, Bruce Wright and Mike Sherman.

Selection of the queen and king was by secret ballot by the entire student body.

The coronation ceremonies will take place again tonight after the second presentation of the homecoming play.

The queen, king and court will again be introduced during halftime festivities of the North homecoming game against St. Mary's of St. Louis on Saturday evening.

Students at North will be wearing the school colors of black and grey tomorrow and will be dismissed at 1:30 p.m. to participate in the homecoming parade. A bonfire is scheduled for 7:30 a.m. tomorrow.

A dance will follow the homecoming game Saturday in the North cafeteria, from 10 p.m. to midnight.

New motion in election suit

Announcements Tuesday night diminished hopes of Mrs. Helen Hawkins of being seated as Nameoki Township trustee at the April township election ballots.

Even though she received more votes than trustee Jerry Adams in a court-ordered recount of the April township election ballots, Tuesday night, it was disclosed that about a week ago, Chief Circuit Judge Victor Moselle dismissed two documents keeping Mrs. Hawkins in the election challenge lawsuit.

At the request of unsuccessful trustee candidate, Joseph Boyer, Moselle dismissed Boyer's lawsuit which was the only election challenge still naming trustee candidates.

He also dismissed a countersuit which had been filed by Mrs. Hawkins, but she did not know of the dismissal until Tuesday night.

Contacted in person at lunchtime Tuesday by the Press-Record Judge Moselle said he had not made any rulings in the Nameoki Township case, to the best of his recollection.

He noted he did not have the file with him to review.

Wednesday he reviewed the file and confirmed that he did dismiss the Boyer suit and Mrs. Hawkins countersuit, but noted a motion to reconsider his actions on the trustee race has been filed by Attorney H. Carl Ranges and David Adamson III, attorney for the successful township candidates, have submitted their final briefs in case to Moselle, who is expected to rule on the township supervisor and assessor winners in the near future.

The trustee winners can not be declared until after the motion to reconsider Mrs. Hawkins position has been ruled on.

In the court-ordered recount, Harold Davis defeated the incumbent Louis Whitsell for supervisor by eight votes, 1,535 to 1,527, and Assessor Carl Macdonald defeated challenger Loren Madison by two votes, 1,469 to 1,467.

W. Lee Adams and Norman Hessler received the most votes for the four trustee positions and Jerry Adams also was declared a winner election night.

Mrs. Hawkins and Andrew Besserman tied and a drawing was held to determine which one would be seated. Besserman won the drawing.

The court-ordered recount showed Mrs. Hawkins and Besserman received more votes than John Lee Adams.

Jerry Adams told the Press-Record after hearing Tuesday night of the dismissal that he was confident it was "the will of the majority of the people" that he be elected.

He said his unofficial tally from the discovery process when the votes were reviewed by township officials show he would have been elected had check marks instead of "X" marks on the ballots been counted as well as ballots the election judges failed to initial.

"I believe the election night count was probably the most accurate count of who the people wanted elected when they went to the polls," Adams said, adding, "Had I resigned, as some wanted me to, it would not have been fair to the people who elected me, or to myself."

He said his disagreement, saying her unofficial tally from the discovery process show she would have won by a wider margin than the court count, had uninitialed ballots and improperly marked ballots been counted.

Alan Dixon to speak in GC

Illinois Secretary of State Alan Dixon, a Belleville Democrat, will address Granite City Rotarians Nov. 22, it was noted during Tuesday's weekly club luncheon.

The Rotary club was entertained with vocal music and talks by cadets from the Salvation Army Officers Training School. Cadet Joe Leffler of Minneapolis described how he was motivated to join the Salvation Army.

Dwight Garrison, dean of men and education at the Chicago training facility, reviewed evangelistic goals of the organization. Program chairman was SA Captain Michael Tompkins, a member of the host club.

President Donald Shaffner presided and it was announced that W. Jack Davis of Bernadine, president of Rotary International will speak in Jacksonville, Ill., Nov. 19.

Resigns school post

The Granite City Board of Education Tuesday night accepted the resignation of Robert Maxwell, director of the district's vocational, technical and career education program, effective Dec. 2.

He is leaving to accept employment at Granite City Steel. The board accepted the resignation with regrets.

Maxwell first started in the school district in 1970 as an industrial education teacher at Granite City High School. From 1971 to 1975 he was assistant principal at Prather Junior High School and in 1976 he was appointed to head the district's vocational education program. The school board is accepting applications for the position.

In other business, the retirement of Pauline B. Aufderheide, a secretary at Marshall School, was approved, effective Dec. 31.

Joyce Rutledge was hired as an elementary school teacher for Washington and Webster Schools.

Alfreda Pendergrass and Deborah Kennedy were hired as cafeteria workers at Granite City High School South and Viola Hutchings was hired until Jan. 13 for the cafeteria at McKinley School.

The board granted leave of absence to Diana Hartman, a Logan school teacher, Jean M. Nelson, home economics teacher at CHS South, and Emil Kanis, sheet metal teacher at South.

Stack gets more backing

Larkin Williams, chairman, Wood River District Republican Committee, announced today the support of the Wood River committee, for Dan Slack.

Slack is running for the GOP nomination for the U.S. House of Representatives from the 23rd District.

Williams emphasized the unanimous support of the committee.

"The sincere attitude with which Dan approaches the office is impressive to us all," Williams added.

He said his unofficial tally from the discovery process when the votes were reviewed by township officials show he would have been elected had check marks instead of "X" marks on the ballots been counted as well as ballots the election judges failed to initial.

"I believe the election night count was probably the most accurate count of who the people wanted elected when they went to the polls," Adams said, adding, "Had I resigned, as some wanted me to, it would not have been fair to the people who elected me, or to myself."

He said his disagreement, saying her unofficial tally from the discovery process show she would have won by a wider margin than the court count, had uninitialed ballots and improperly marked ballots been counted.

FIRE-HASTENED ADJOURNMENT as 88 persons attending the final Tri-Cities Area United Way report luncheon were evacuated from the Granite City Army Installation Officers' Club at 1 p.m. Wednesday. The campaign announcements and related comments were just concluding when smoke and flames broke out in the kitchen. A fire truck that had arrived at the scene is partly visible at the right. (Press-Record Photo)

Republican Women's installation set

The Panama Canal treaty and the current problems relating to the canal were discussed by Mrs. Eva Meier, legislative chairman of the Granite City Republican Women's Club, Tuesday, at a meeting of the organization held at the Grand Cafe.

Mrs. Edna Kohlbrecher, president, presided at the luncheon meeting, when members agreed to donate funds to the Salvation Army Tree of Lights for one night.

A discussion was held on the classes now being held at the YMCA on instruction of the metric system, lead by Mrs. Elma Hoover.

Program chairman Mrs. George Walter reported Granite City attorney Dan Stack, a Republican candidate for congress, will be the guest speaker at the installation dinner. Other state and county candidates have also been invited to attend the event set for Dec. 6 at Bill Burns Cafeteria, it was noted.

The president appointed Mrs. Gladys Pape ticket chairman. She distributed tickets to members at the meeting and noted reservations may be made by calling 876-6501.

Roy Lynn led the opening prayer and invocation and reports were given by Mrs. Pape, acting secretary, and Mrs. Judy Nemeth, treasurer.

A display of Christmas ornaments and decorations for the holiday season, provided by the members, were exhibited. Ways and means chairman, Mrs. Louise Dutko, introduced Mrs. Vernice Walter who conducted an auction of the donated items.

Mrs. Kohlbrecher introduced and welcomed a new member, Brenda Reese. Other guests attending were Mrs. Keith Edwards, Mary Jean Orr, Anne Pare, Alfred Pape, Edmund Firmer, George Walter and Ray Edwards and son Ray.

TOPS Rally in Edwardsville

The eighth TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensible) Fall Rally was held at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, and attended by 410 members, guests and visiting field staff members.

Datha Ely and Mrs. Ruth Groth, area captains, opened the event and introduced Mrs. Marjorie Thurman, area supervisor from Carthage, Ill., and Rose Ann Brown, area captain from Quincy, Ill.

Named rally queen was Ruth Varble from Worden TOPS Chapter 1644 and runner-up was Paula Vaughn a member of Granite City Chapter 467.

TOPS Chapter 1700 of Granite City, received a second place trophy during the affair. Members of the chapter who were accorded honors included Mrs. Joyce Hasheider, Joann Petras, Naomi Terrell, Mrs. Glenda Ozburn and Beverly Beal.

A yellow wrist corsage was presented to Mrs. Ozburn, chapter leader, by those mentioned and Mrs. Clara Becker, Rita Bradford, Lori Hintz, Carol Kalkbrenner, Diana Wilson, Sue Brown and Venida McCarl.

Halloween party at Kirkpatrick

Mrs. June Baker, 4011 Kirkpatrick Homes, entertained neighborhood children at a Halloween party, Monday night, in her home.

Mothers of the youngsters assisted with the party and provided candy and fruit and directed games. They also awarded several prizes during the event.

The highlight of the party was a "spook house" created by several teen-agers as part of the entertainment.

FIRST PLACE WINNER. Bobbie Knight, left, daughter of Mrs. Faye Knight, receives the first-place trophy for her entry in the Emerson School Halloween parking meter decorating contest held during the weekend in downtown Granite City. Presenting the trophy is Eugene Aiasi, consultant for art education for the Granite City School District. Her entry was a combination of witches, pumpkins and corn husks and was judged Saturday by Mrs. Patricia Mueller, Henry Gabriel and Aiasi. A picture of the winning entry appeared in Monday's Press-Record. (Press-Record Photo)

THREE MUSKETEERS performance by the National Theater of the Deaf will be presented at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville on Tuesday, Nov. 8, at 8:15 p.m. Location will be the Meridian Ballroom of the University Center.

Mrs. Menzies entertains

The Thursday Evening Bunco Club met in the home of Mrs. Lorine Menzies, 2719 Harding Blvd., for a semi-monthly meeting.

Those excelling in the games and winning prizes were Mesdames Grace Parmley, the hostess, Alice Koesterer, Velma Radefeld and Myrtle Bruns.

Mrs. Menzies decorated her dining table in a Halloween motif and served refreshments after the games. Also attending were Angie Hartman, Luella Propes and Celeste Johnson. Mrs. Bruns invited the group to her home, 2948 Washington Ave., for the next meeting.

Mrs. Seliner dies at 59

Mrs. Helen L. (McFeron) Seliner, 59, of 4154 Madison Ave., a lifelong resident of Granite City, died at 1:30 a.m. Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

She was a former employee of National Lead.

Mrs. Seliner attended City Temple Pentecostal Church.

She is survived by one brother, James McFeron of Granite City.

SPECIAL BULLETIN FROM SCHERMER'S:

The word from Gail is that the Garden Shop is now ready for your inspection. All the Christmas items have been unpacked and are on display. Many new items were obtained this year; so, even if you are a regular "Garden Shop" devotee, it will pay you to stop in and "see what's cookin'."

We know that in our Garden Shop we do have the most complete collection of merchandise in the area and the "price is right." The reason we know this is that year after year we continue to attract more and more people from Alton, Collinsville, Belleville and St. Louis. They couldn't all be wrong.

DID YOU KNOW?
Housing is still America's greatest unmet consumer need and, as long as we continue to live in an inflationary climate, virtually all modern homes and many older homes are bound to appreciate in value every year.

For the average family, owning a home and living in it is almost the last available tax shelter. The law favors the homeowner over the renter as a taxpayer, and we think it will continue to do so for a long time.

A house should be a good investment for a long time to come. Nationally, house prices have been rising by about 10% a year, according to the Federal Home Loan Bank Board and the National Association of Home Builders.

Annual appreciation should beat inflation by 1 to 3% for the next decade, according to Michael Sumichrast, top economist for the builder's association, and Kenneth Kerin, research director of the National Association of Realtors. Now is the time to purchase your new home through the services of your local professional realtor.

Meet on Festival

The schedule of Chris Fahman, manager of the Blossom Music Center in Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, when he visits Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville to evaluate the Mississippi River Festival today, Friday and Saturday, has been announced by President Kenneth A. Shaw. Fahman has been retained by the university to provide an evaluation of the management and program of the MRF, with recommendations for the future of the activity.

The president especially called attention to an open period in Fahman's schedule on Friday, Nov. 4, from 2:30 to 4 p.m., when he will be available to meet with any interested member of the university community in the Mississippi-Illinois Room of University Center.

Dr. Shaw announced to the MRF board Oct. 29 that four steps were being taken to evaluate the Festival and make recommendations for the future.

In addition to the employment of Fahman as a professional consultant, the steps include an intensive internal audit, an evaluation of MRF in terms of its academic benefits and its impact on other functional areas of SIUE, and a rating of MRF by students, faculty and staff in terms of the university's over-all priorities.

The National College of Education will hold competitive scholarships for the 1978 freshman class Jan. 16 and March 27 at its Evanston campus. The final round of competitive scholarships will be held at the college on April 2.

Competitive scholarships are merit-based awards providing up to full tuition for four years to high school seniors in the top quarter of their graduating classes.

Students write an essay, are interviewed by college faculty, and demonstrate talent in an area of their choice: art, English, mathematics, music, psychology, social science, science, or speech-theater. During the competition weekends, students can visit college classes and the demonstration school (nursery-grade 8), and spend the night in college dorms.

The competitive program was begun to attract students of high ability to careers in elementary and early childhood education. National College of Education has both undergraduate and graduate programs in various areas of elementary, junior high and preschool education. The college, founded in 1886, put emphasis on practice teaching experience through all four years of undergraduate study.

Freedom to be — 4-H theme

Sixteen hundred 4-H members from across the nation will converge on Chicago the weekend after Thanksgiving for the 56th national 4-H Congress. The "Freedom To Be" theme of the five-day meeting will highlight the opportunities 4-H offers young people for personal, social, life-skill and career development.

The congress opens Nov. 27 and runs through Dec. 1 at the Conrad Hilton Hotel.

Most delegates are older teens who have won state, sectional or national honors for their 1977 4-H projects. 273 of the delegates will share in national and regional scholarships totaling $249,500 to be awarded during the week. Scholarships and expense-paid trips to the congress are donated by 40 businesses, foundations and other private-sector organizations.

R. H. KARANDJEFF, COMPLETES SEMINAR

Robert H. Karandjeff, vice-president and chairman of the American Heritage Bank of Granite City, was one of 67 bankers from 21 states who successfully completed the 11th annual seminar for young men and women in banking sponsored by the Independent Bankers Association of America on the campus of Ball State University in Muncie, Ind., Oct. 23-27. The seminar offered an intensive five days of lectures and group analysis of practical banking subjects.

Dr. Shaw announced to the MRF board Oct. 29 that four steps were being taken to evaluate the Festival and make recommendations for the future.

In addition to the employment of Fahman as a professional consultant, the steps include an intensive internal audit, an evaluation of MRF in terms of its academic benefits and its impact on other functional areas of SIUE, and a rating of MRF by students, faculty and staff in terms of the university's over-all priorities.

BEFORE being made up for his role as the "Grim Reaper" for the Explorer Post 10-33 Haunted Casket, Gary Daniels, post president, would go unnoticed in a crowd.

DURING his transformation, Jan McGee, an employee at Rose Elmore's Merle Norman Cosmetic Studio, Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center, carefully applies ghostly makeup to Daniels' face. Merle Norman employees donated their time and makeup nightly to aid the Explorers who haunted the casket.

AFTER makeup is applied, Daniels' appearance is drastically changed. Although the Haunted Casket in Crossroads Plaza concluded its appearance this year Monday night, the Explorers vowed they will be back next Halloween season with a larger and even better attraction.

Moving day for house plants

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
Area Horticulture Adviser

House plants can be moved safely, but it takes work and advanced planning. Most professional movers will not move plants because of extremes in temperature inside the van and the fragile nature of the plants.

Here is a time schedule that may fit your situation:

Three weeks. (1) Ask your household mover for special packing materials to move your own plants. Most van lines will be glad to help you pack them. Some agents have illustrated brochures with tips and suggestions on how to best move a plant.

(2) Call the Department of Agriculture to check on regulations for moving plants into your new state.

(3) Repot your plants into unbreakable plastic pots. Two weeks. Plants should be pruned, if necessary, to avoid excessive breakage and facilitate packing and moving. Even large plants can be cut back quite a lot without ruining their shape.

One week. Fumigate your plants to eliminate common plant pests. Place your plants in a black plastic utility bag for about six hours with a bug-pest strip. Be sure to put the bag in a cool, shady area to avoid overheating inside the bag.

Moving day. Plants should be packed the night before and clearly labeled. Lay plants down in conventional packing boxes. Use moist newspaper for packing material. Make sure the plants are packed tight. Water the plants the day before you move, if it's warm weather, but keep them on the dry side in cold weather. As a final event, punch air holes in the sides of the box.

On the road. Put the plant boxes on top to avoid crushing. Don't put them in the trunk. Be careful where you park your car to take advantage of shade in the summer and sunshine in the winter. When you arrive, unpack your plants immediately. Remove them from the boxes and position them in a bright, but not full sunshine, location.

If you cannot move them all, use some as gifts and offer the rest in local yard sales. How about taking cuttings before you go? Wrap the cuttings in damp paper towels and pack in a plastic bag. More than likely they will survive several days travel and still root when you arrive.

Annual sausage supper

Ruth Brave and Norman Soechtig, co-chairmen have announced that final plans are being made for the annual sausage supper at St. Peter's Church, 21st and Cleveland Blvd., on Wednesday, Nov. 9.

New this year will be serving from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. to accommodate those wishing to come during the noon hour. Evening serving will be from 4:30 to 7 p.m.

The meal will be served family style, and roast beef can be substituted if desired. Tickets are $3.75 per adult and $1.50 for children four to 12 years of age, with those under four free.

News notes

The Illinois State Historical Society is seeking applicants for its eleventh annual $2,000 graduate fellowship in Illinois history. Potential applicants can write the Society at the Old State Capitol, Springfield 62706, for details.

Gov. Thompson last week announced the release of $1.08 million in Capital Development Bond funds for construction of specialized living centers for substantially handicapped persons in Springfield, Rockford, Addison and Swansea. The governor also released an additional $760,000 for equipment for the centers.

Alton locks were closed to river traffic for four hours Thursday night due to a rubber-plugged 15-barge low being carried away against the dam.

The House approved 275-146 Thursday sharply increasing the amount of Social Security taxes to be deducted in future years. Senate action is pending.

President Jimmy Carter reiterated Thursday he opposes any formal limit on steel imports. He said he will enforce present laws against below-cost dumping of steel.

Seek greater mass transit usage by workers, students

In the near future, the people of this metropolitan region, along with "transportation experts," will select a mass transit system to serve the area for the next 20 years.

The East-West Gateway Coordinating Council will soon conduct a series of workshops to channel citizens' suggestions and comments into planning for the new system.

This is the first in a series of Gateway articles to inform citizens of the background of the mass transit program in this region and to help them make an informed decision.

The energy crunch, environmental concerns, and previous wasteful habits have combined to emphasize the growing need for mass transit.

Be it real or imagined, the energy issue has become more significant with each passing year.

Consequences of squandering energy in the past are figuring into energy costs and new technologies, and may eventually mandate a new life style for Americans.

U.S. residents are notorious in the world market as the largest users and the greatest wasters of energy.

Our preoccupation with the single-passenger car illustrates our seeming lack of concern for the efficient use of energy.

Transportation accounts for 29 percent of the energy used nationally, and America's 100 million registered autos consume 70 billion gallons of gasoline each year.

St. Louisans burn two to three million gallons of gasoline per day, according to a Gateway study of transportation in the area.

Analysis shows that, nationwide, if one gallon is saved each week for every auto, a yearly saving of 5.2 billion gallons of gasoline would result. Further, if the average load per commuter car were increased by one person, we would realize a saving of 700,000 gallons of oil per day.

With costs of all goods and services steadily rising, we are well aware of the increasing demands on our incomes. But it appears that many of us still have only a vague notion of how much it actually costs to own and operate a car.

The U.S. Department of Transportation in 1976 found that for residents of Baltimore, Md., a standard-size American-made car that costs $5,000 to purchase will cost its owner nearly $18,000 over a ten-year period.

The annual inflation factor drives the operating cost for cars even higher.

To establish transit as a viable alternative to driving an auto—and to show the need for transit system improvements which will make transit more accessible and attractive in the St. Louis region—East-West Gateway conducted surveys in 1976 on transportation needs.

The number of trips, the mode of transportation used, and the destination of the trip were studied.

The surveys revealed that the greatest need for mobility is for people to commute to work.

Of approximately 5,000 trips each weekday, 32 percent of those trips were work-related. 15 percent were school-related.

The surveys also revealed that transit, as now known, is not feasible for all trips, but that it is a viable alternative for work and school-related trips.

Those two trip purposes combined represent almost half of all weekday travel.

The surveys were part of the St. Louis Mass Transit Program, undertaken by East-

West Gateway to help estimate the total regional travel market.

They confirmed Gateway's conclusion that improvements beyond adding more buses to the transit system were warranted, and that alternative means of public transportation should be explored and carefully explained and discussed with the public.

The St. Louis Mass Transit Program had its beginning in 1971 when an 86-mile rapid rail system, estimated to cost $2.2 billion, was proposed for the region.

After holding public hearings on the proposed project, Gateway determined that the proposed rapid rail system was too expensive, was over-designed and lacked public support.

That was the final conclusion in 1974 which resulted in dropping the plan for a regional rapid transit system.

Yet, the need for better and more efficient transportation grows as energy costs, air pollution and traffic congestion increase.

After investigating a wide range of transit alternatives—including high-speed rapid rail systems, commuter rail services, street cars (or light rail systems), as well as various bus alternatives—the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council is preparing to submit three of the systems, determined to be the most feasible for the region, for public consideration.

Will these suffer the same fate as the proposed rapid rail system?

Are they too expensive? Over-designed?

Do they lack public support? These questions will be answered by the public in a series of upcoming workshops.

Management recognition

An annual recognition award in management has been established at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville to honor the late Edward K. Brenner, according to Earl Lazerson, university vice-president and provost.

An executive at Farmland Industries in Kansas City and a recognized expert in the field of transportation, Brenner also taught evening courses in interstate commerce law at SIUE, Washington University and the University of Missouri-Kansas City.

The award will be made each year at the SIUE Honors Day convocation to a graduating senior in the School of Business majoring in management. The recipient will be selected by a faculty committee appointed by the dean of the School of Business or chairman of the department of management.

Criteria for selection will be academic achievements in evidence of leadership. A cash award of $50 will be made to the chosen student and his name permanently placed on the Edward K. Brenner award plaque each year beginning in May 1978. The plaque will be on continuous display in the reception area of the department of management, School of Business.

Dale F. Blount, associate professor of management, established the endowment fund at the SIUE Foundation with Charles Schweizer, former executive director. Donations were approved and submitted from the Traffic Clubs of Greater St. Louis and Greater Kansas City. Many former students and friends also contributed to an amount that insures permanent endowment of the award.

Harold Hill dies at 60

Funeral services were held today for Harold William Hill, 60, of Rural Route One, Winfield, Mo., formerly of Granite City. He died Monday at his home of an apparent heart attack.

He was born in Greenville, Ill., and resided in this area many years prior to moving to Winfield. Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Johnnie Hill; six children, Carl Hill of Ledyard, Conn., Mrs. Barbara Foster, Nashville, Tenn., Harold Hill Jr., Lexington Park, Md., Mrs. Sharon Orban and Mrs. Patsy Mary, both of Brighton, Ill., and Mrs. Carol Hanner of Worden, Ill.; one brother, Irving Hill, Greenville; two sisters, Mrs. Helen Casper of Weisstown, Ill., and Mrs. Goldie Zobrist of Greenville; 13 grandchildren; one step-grandchild and one step-great-grandchild.

Details are given in the obituary column.

Area chapter observing Mental Retardation Month

November may mean Thanksgiving to most, but to thousands of public-spirited citizens and to more than 1,900 local associates for Retarded Citizens, it also means Mental Retardation Month, according to Caldwell Shands, Mitchell, president of the Tri-City Area for Retarded.

This year's theme for observance of the month will be "Together We Can Do More," she said.

Mrs. Shands also said that this year Mental Retardation Month has a special meaning as the National Association for Retarded (NARC) embarks on a new campaign that should have wide, and lasting significance, a search for cures for mental retardation.

In announcing the new campaign, she added, the NARC president, Dr. Frank J. Menelacio, commented, "We have made great gains in helping retarded persons but now we must rank the crusade for cures for mental retardation as the most momentous decision the association has made since its inception in 1950."

November generally is the month designated as a focal point for all the local and national activities in mental retardation during the year, she noted.

"It is the period when radio-TV networks concentrate their public service time on mental retardation messages, when the local units launch their most important special promotions, newspaper coverage, displays and other specific fund-raising activities," Mrs. Shands said.

The association's 28th annual convention opened Wednesday in New Orleans, La., and will continue through Saturday. Members will nominate a new president, elect

Injured youth is improving

Michael Coad, 15, of 2715 E. 24th St., was reported improving this week at Cardinal Glennon Hospital where he was taken after he was struck by a car on Nameoki Road near East 24th Street during the weekend.

The youth suffered a skull fracture, cuts to the head and his right leg was broken in five places. He was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital from where he was transferred to the St. Louis Hospital after emergency treatment.

new officers and set new policies. Mrs. Shands and Mrs. Bernice Meyers, also of Mitchell, are attending the convention.

Since its inception, NARC has been a "grass roots" organization emphasizing services and advocacy at the local level," Mrs. Shands said. The association has, through the years, achieved national and international recognition not only as a potent advocate for mentally retarded persons but also as the source of authoritative and highly competent expertise in the field of mental retardation, she noted.

NARC works closely with a variety of other public, private and professional agencies that have allied interests in mental retardation and related handicapping conditions. Mrs. Shands said some of the organizations current goals include:

Achieving improved funding of services needed by retarded persons and their families; reducing the incidence of mental retardation through implementation of known methods of prevention; improving institutional and community-based residential services for retarded persons.

Also ensuring the legal rights of all mentally retarded persons in every state; establishing effective advocacy systems throughout the country, including the support, monitoring and evaluation of all services for retarded children and adults; achieving appropriate free public educational opportunities, including preschool, continuing and compensatory educational programs, for retarded persons of all ages, and finding cures for mental retardation.

Reading authority will talk

Quid-City educators who attend the 13th annual reading conference at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Saturday, Nov. 12, will have the opportunity to hear an authority on the teaching of reading.

Charlotte Huck, professor in the College of Education at Ohio State University, will be the 11:45 a.m. speaker on "Educating the Heart and Imagination through Literature." Registration will be from 9 to 9 a.m.

Prof. Huck has been a faculty member at Ohio State since 1955. She specializes in elementary education, with emphasis on the teaching of children's literature. She is the current president of the 100,000-member National Council of Teachers of English. In 1971, she was co-chairman of Commission III for the York International Conference on Language and Learning, and in 1968 she was a participant in the Second World Congress of Reading in Copenhagen, Denmark.

A native of Evanston, Prof. Huck received the Ph.D. degree from Northwestern University. She has been a visiting professor at the University of Denver and the University of Hawaii.

HURTS SHOULDER, CHEST Albert Zamarone, 57, Collinsville, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital last week for injuries sustained in an auto accident the evening before. He had a large contusion to his abdomen and pain to his right shoulder and chest. X-rays were taken and he was released.

South students attend 'Macbeth'

Students in English Literature classes at Granite City High School South attended a production of Macbeth at the Loretto-Hilton Repertory Theater in Webster Groves, Mo., on Tuesday.

Macbeth, one of William Shakespeare's most popular dramas, and the Elizabethan theater are studied by students enrolled in English Literature, a senior selective course.

Tuesday's student matinee, which was funded by the Missouri Arts Council and the National Endowment for the Arts, enabled the students to further develop their interest and appreciation of the Shakespearean drama. Mrs. Sandra Hughes, English teacher at South, accompanied 50 students to the performance.

Her fiancé is a 1972 graduate of Granite City High School, and is currently stationed in Washington, D.C., with the U.S. Navy. He also is a member of the Loyal Order of the Moose. The engaged couple are completing plans for an April wedding.

The bride-to-be was graduated from Quincy Senior

Etta Nappier becomes Mrs. Richard Presser

An out of town wedding of interest here was that of Miss Etta Nappier, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David E. Nappier, Rosebud, Mo., formerly of Madison, and Richard Presser, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Presser, Owensville, Mo., on Aug. 20.

The Rev. Jerry Markel officiated at the 10 a.m. ceremony held in the home of the groom's parents.

For her wedding, the bride wore a long white gown featuring a high neckline, short sleeves and sheer yoke accented with lace.

Her slightly full skirt terminated with a gathered flounce at the hemline. She wore a halo of white mums in her hair and held a bouquet of white and aqua mums, tied with white streamers.

Matron of honor Mrs. Jackie Haynes, a sister of the groom, chose a formal length dress fashioned with a sweetheart neckline trimmed with ecru lace.

She also wore blossoms in her hair and carried a nosegay of aqua and white mums.

David Seago attended the groom as best man.

A reception followed the service in the Presser residence, and a luncheon for the bridal party and their families was held at Merle's Cafe in Gerald, Mo.

The bride is employed at Custom Printing in Owensville, and her husband works at Spiccraft in Gerald, Mo. They are now residing in Owensville.

Patchworkers Halloween party

All 20 members of the Patchworkers 4-H Club attended a Halloween party given last week at St. Elizabeth School hall, hosted by Wendy McIlroy. Assisting the chairman were Patricia Grebel, Karen Toussaint, Mary Loftus and Christy Kessler.

Each member arrived in costume and were judged in specific categories. Those winning prizes were Karrie Presser dressed as "The Thing" and named the ugliest; Amy Patterson, "Little Bo Peep," the prettiest; Patti Grebel as "The Joke Box," the most unique; Janet Jachino as "The Headless Horseman," scariest; and Mary Loftus as "Star Wars' Darth Vader," received the most votes.

Various games were played during the affair and prizes were awarded to Mollie Loftus, Christy Kessler, Joan Krystopa,

St. Joseph Church scene of Jones-Hull wedding

St. Joseph Roman Catholic Church was the scene of the wedding, on Oct. 8, of Miss Angela Fay Hull, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde T. Hull, 2608 Cayuga Ave., and Dennis Jones, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Jones, 3237 Lakeview Drive.

Bouquets of bronze and gold mums adorned the altar and burning tapers in branched candelabra illuminated the sanctuary for the double ring ceremony performed at 2 p.m. by the Rev. Gary Perret. The scriptural readings were given by the Rev. Gene Maritt.

Mrs. Clea Judd presided at the organ and accompanied Mrs. Linda McIlroy as she sang, "Our Father," "Peace on Earth," "Hawaiian Wedding Song" and "The Wedding Song."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the former Miss Hull wore a floor length gown of white silk organza with a full train. The long bishop sleeves and high neckline were edged in lace.

The back waistline was accented with a white satin bow and long white streamers. A white jeweled tiara held in place her chapel veil bordered in wide lace and she carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations, red Sweetheart roses and white baby's breath.

Matron of honor Mrs. Regina Bohnenstiel, a sister of the bride, chose a floor length ginger silk knit dress designed with a shirred bodice, cap sleeves and a softly flowing skirt.

Mrs. Marilyn Bell, a sister of the bride, Mrs. Joan Fraley, the groom's sister, and Miss Barbara Kibbons, were bridesmaids.

They selected identical gowns in a rust shade. Each attendant held a colonial bouquet of bronze and gold mums, and they wore a cluster of matching blossoms in their hair.

The flower girls, Arney Lynn and Carrie Jean Bohnenstiel, nieces of the bride, were dressed in beige frocks. The bridesmaids were created in a ginger and rust print with short puff sleeves and the full skirts were edged in a white lace. Each held a basket of fall color mums, and they also wore flowers in their hair.

Rick L. Cavins attended the groom as best man. David Fraley, the groom's brother-in-law, Jerry T. Hull, a brother of the bride, and Jim McNeil, the groom's cousin, were groomsmen.

Seating the guests were Dan Hull, a cousin of the bride, and Mark Vallowe.

The newly married couple received guests at a reception held at the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones, parents of the groom, hosted the rehearsal dinner in their home. Mrs. Hazel Duffey assisted at the reception and Miss Cindy Duwell, a cousin of the bride, attended the guest book. Also assisting were Mrs. Virginia Kibbons, Miss Mary Ann Horvath and Mrs. Linda Lee.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hull appeared in a long aqua blue knit gown and chiffon cape. The groom's mother was attired in a long rose, rust and ginger, silk print dress. Both wore white carnation corsages.

Both young people graduated from Granite City High School South. The bride is employed at B&K Bookkeeping and her husband works at Central Hardware. He also is attending Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, where he is majoring in psychology.

They are residing in Granite City, following a wedding trip to the Ozarks.

Rules for using non-Bell phones; seek rate change

Illinois Bell on Tuesday outlined regulations laid down by the Federal Communications Commission which allow customers to directly connect their own phone equipment to the telephone network. Bell also spelled out tariff revisions the company is requesting to accommodate this new program.

Hugh A. "Hal" Latimer, company vice president and treasurer, explained over closed-circuit television here that under an FCC program — commonly called "registration" — which went into effect Oct. 17, customers who choose to supply their own single-line telephone equipment and connect it directly to the telephone company line must:

- Use equipment that has been registered by the supplier as meeting FCC technical standards; or
- Use "grandfathered" equipment, non-registered equipment which the FCC says qualifies for direct connection without need of a telephone company protective connecting arrangement (a safeguard device).

Supply Illinois Bell with registration numbers for the set before it is connected; and,

- Connect the phone equipment through standard jacks provided by the telephone company.

Latimer pointed out that customers who choose to provide their own phones will be responsible for the proper installation, maintenance and repair of their phones.

He added that — although it is not required under the FCC program — Illinois Bell suggests customers consider keeping at least one Illinois Bell phone so the telephone company continues to be responsible for maintaining service end-to-end. This also assures that if customers remove their own phones for repairs, there will still be a working phone in the home, he said.

The company filed revised tariffs with the Illinois Commerce Commission on Tuesday morning, Latimer said. Unless suspended for ten-month public hearings by the ICC, the changes would go into effect Dec. 2.

The tariff changes would increase company revenues by estimated $52,000 a year, less than a cent a customer.

The cost changes are designed so customers who supply their own equipment won't be charged for services or equipment formerly provided by the telephone company, he said.

The proposed revisions include:

- Crediting customers who provide their own main or extension telephone 70 cents a month for each phone they provide. The other 25 cents of the 95-cent charge would continue, in order to meet wiring costs.

- Revising installation charges so there would be reduced charges for customers who supply their own telephone.
- Revising the $1.50 a month that home phone customers now pay for Touch-Tone service so that customers would pay 60 cents a month to have Touch-Tone on the line and 50 cents for most single-line pushbutton phones.

Touch-Tone Trimline and Touch-A-Matic 16 telephones would be 60 cents monthly. This could mean a saving or an increase, depending on how many Touch-Tone phones the customers have.

- No longer offering a three Touch-Tone telephone package at a discount rate. Customers who have the package plan could keep it at their present addresses.

Ill. Power earnings stable; concern over federal control

Illinois Power Company earnings per share of common stock for the 12 months ended Sept. 30 were under the comparable period a year ago, but showed increases for the first nine months of the current calendar year.

An interim report to stockholders was issued Monday at Decatur.

Wendell J. Kelley, chairman and president of the company, said the 12-month figure for the period ended in September was $2.54, compared with $2.62 for the 12 months ended Sept. 30, 1976.

For the first nine months in 1977, the figure was $2.27, compared with $2.19 per share for the same period in 1976, Kelley said.

For the three months ending Sept. 30, 1977, the figure was 85 cents, compared with 84 cents in the same 1976 quarter.

In his letter to stockholders, Kelley announced that the construction estimate for the first nuclear unit at the Clinton power station has been increased from $904 million to $1,113,000,000 an increase of $229 million.

The first unit, 550 megawatts, is scheduled for operation in late 1981.

Kelley told stockholders that energy legislation now before Congress is "of great concern to the company."

"The House of Representatives' version of this bill would, among other things, increase federal control over utilities and adversely affect utilities and their customers in many ways," he said.

"Senate action has improved or eliminated some of the worst House provisions. But the final content of the legislation is subject to a House-Senate conference committee and final action by both houses of Congress."

Discussing financing matters, Kelley noted the sale on Aug. 11 of 1,000,000 shares of eight percent cumulative preferred stock, $50 par value per share. He added:

"On Oct. 19, we filed a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission for the sale of $100,000,000 principal amount of first mortgage bonds at competitive bidding. We expect to open bids on Nov. 15."

Gardenaires host district

District V garden clubs were honored with the presence of Mrs. Jesse McDonald, state president of The Garden Club of Illinois, Inc., at their President's Council Day on Oct. 27 at St. John's United Church of Christ in Granite City.

The Gardenaires Garden Club of Granite City was the hostess club for the members and guests. All 14 clubs in the district were well represented, with a total of 97 in attendance.

Seven members of the new Green Oaks Garden Club from Macoupin County were included in the total. This club will be joining the district in January.

Mrs. Mary Kristian, president of the Gardenaires, gave the welcoming address, with a response from Mrs. Arthur Buesch, vice-chairman of District V.

Mrs. Hazel English, chairman of District V, presided over the meeting.

Eight of the twelve past directors of the district were honored guests for the occasion. Mrs. Stephen Shea, Mrs. William Klotz, Mrs. William Stafford, Mrs. Harold Wolfe, Mrs. J. N. Fitzsimmons, Mrs. H. C. Heberer, Mrs. R. J. Isenhardt and Mrs. Arvid Nelson.

As each was introduced, she was presented a red rose by Mrs. English. This is the special day of the year for each club to honor its own president, with a corsage and luncheon.

Mrs. McDonald informed the group of a proposed change in the name of The National Council of State Gardens Clubs, Inc., to Garden Clubs International.

This would include garden clubs of foreign countries and would also eliminate confining this organization with another with a similar name, Garden Clubs of America.

She spoke of the possibility of junior colleges offering a garden club course, consisting of two days of lectures and approximately a half-day for an examination which would qualify a student as a consultant in garden study.

District VII, in the southernmost part of Illinois, is planning a flower show school at Carbondale, to include this area. Most of such schools are held in the northern part of Illinois and are difficult for members in this area to attend, it was related.

The annual state convention will be held April 24 and 25, 1978, at Arlington Park, with a pre-convention tour of Chicago April 23, ending with an open house tea at the Morton Arboretum, the new state headquarters.

The Edwardsville Garden Club placed its order for a blue star marker with Mrs. Stephen Shea, state blue star chairman. The club has raised money for this marker at a plant and variety sale.

Flower show schedules were distributed to the clubs for the Christmas show, "Christmas Forever," which will be held Dec. 2 at Immanuel United Church of Christ in Edgemont. A pre-show program and continental breakfast at Schlosser's Restaurant, 113 E.

Main St., Belleville, are set for Nov. 29 from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. Mrs. Henry Heberer, program chairman, introduced the speaker, Nancy Ebbens of St. Louis, who exhibited some of her original pottery containers. The topic of her program was "The Evolution of a Hanging Garden," and she showed slides and narrated how to display plants to best advantage, some suspended and some on tables.

She showed how she started with hanging plants in one of her windows overlooking a table of plants, and how she arranged and rearranged them until the desired effect was obtained.

Artistic arrangements displayed by the clubs were judged and the following awards were given:

"Halloween's Coming" — Shiloh Valley, blue; St. Clair County (Belleville), red; and Holiday Shores, yellow.

"Autumn Splendor" — Fairview Heights, blue; Cahokia, red; Collinsville, yellow, and Lakeview (Collinsville) white.

For a horticulture display blue ribbons were awarded to Ann Aber, Betty Wieland, Mickey Lorenzen, Clara Winter, Trish Haisler, Ruth Buesch, Vera Friedel and Lil Heberer; red ribbons to Ann Aber, Betty Wieland, Mickey Lorenzen, Clara Winter, Dorothy Chamberlain and Vera Friedel; and yellow ribbons to Mrs. Fremont Sues, June Branding, Anna Aber and Ruth Moore.

GARDEN CLUBS EXHIBIT. A variety of house plants, hanging planters and floral arrangements on display at the District V, Garden Club of Illinois, Inc., President's Council Day observance at St. John United Church of Christ. Entries were judged for artistic arrangement in the theme of "Halloween's Coming" and "Autumn Splendor" and also in a horticulture category. The event was hosted by the Granite City Gardenaires Club. (Press-Record Staff Photo)

Pack 2 hosts awards night

An awards presentation was the highlight of the monthly Cub Scout Pack 28 meeting, conducted at Parkview School, last week. The theme for the event followed a citizenship and Halloween topic.

The Webelos led a gathering of 70 participants in reciting the pledge to the flag and singing the Star Spangled Banner. Den Two presented the colors as the opening ceremony.

Introduced were den mothers, Mrs. Ellen Cain, Mrs. Janet Poudes, Mrs. Roberta Lewis and Webelos leader Al Lewis Jr. New den leaders presented were Ellen Wilson, Marty Levaunt, Donna McBride, Gerry Marti, Mrs. Zowski, Mary Morgan and Mrs. Valbert.

The pack received an honor recruiting award for 100 per cent and increase in membership. It was announced. After the meeting the scouts enjoyed making Halloween costumes of paper. They were served refreshments by Den 4.

Brownie Troops investiture

An investiture ceremony was conducted for new members of Brownie Troops 483 and 199, under the direction of leaders, Mrs. Audrey Ribbing and Mrs. Joyce Hughes.

Handmade invitations created in the shape of the Girl Scout emblem, in orange paper and bordered in brown, were sent to the parents.

Cake and punch were served to 25 parents and grandmothers and the new members by Kelly Joy Hughes of Troop 138 and Keri Holikamp, Jeri Lynn Miles, Jeannette Lovesey, Kim Metcalf, Ann Ribbing and Donna Gargac, of Troop 483.

Brownie pins were presented to the new members including those invested into Troop 483, Jenny Simpson, Jill Chaney, Michelle Miller, Trina Pace, Diana Beard and Shila LaRue and to those of Troop 139, Tammy Wallace, Melissa Smith, Gayle Ann Lassen, Tammy Widel, Shannon Doolin, Jennifer Bourland, Tammy Keel, Vicki Lamb, Sharon Landon, Lori Ann Ross and Stephanie Edwards.

attended a dinner honoring state officers at the Lewis and Clark Restaurant in East Alton.

The officers were touring the state and visiting area clubs as part of the week-long celebration.

During the dinner, Miss Fidelia Doolin of Murphysboro, state president, was presented a hand-crocheted afghan by Mrs. Lorene Sadrakula, local club president.

National PTA office opens

In a move to put its 6.4 million members more directly in touch with both the legislative action and the government agencies that shape education and children's welfare, the National Parent-Teachers Association has opened a satellite office in Washington, D.C., according to Barbara Hadcock, president of the Granite City Area PTA Council.

The new office is located at 1201 Sixteenth St., N.W., Room 119, and is headed by David Stratman of Adelphi, Md., formerly with the U.S. Office of Education, Office of Legislation, as a fellow in education policy. Stratman's title is director of governmental relations.

Grace Baisinger, National PTA president, said, "The opening of our Washington office is another link in our already established federal communications network which brings state and local PTA members into closer contact with their members of Congress, strengthening the two-way process by which they share information and views."

"It also enables us to deal more directly with the government agencies and other organizations whose interests parallel ours, focusing on education, health, and welfare as our primary and mutual concerns."

"We feel confident that the addition of David Stratman to our staff, in this key position, will benefit our continuing work in behalf of children and youth."

Sr. Citizens set Christmas dinner

Fifty-five members of the Senior Citizen Saturday Pinocle Club gathered at the Senior Citizen Center Saturday evening for a pot luck dinner and social evening.

The special prize for the event was won by Mrs. Emma Schoen. During the evening games of pinocle were played. President Theresa Walkenbach announced a catered Christmas dinner will be served at 5:30 p.m. on Dec. 10, at Anchorage Recreation Hall. Reservations are to be made no later than Nov. 26, with the president it was noted.

The tranquility of a lazy fall afternoon shatters with a screech and a crash as a freight train derails on the edge of a community, tumbling 20 freight cars off the tracks.
Nearby residents become alarmed when they notice an unknown chemical leaking from a ruptured tank car. Should they flee from their homes and shops until danger has passed? Fears quickly turn to calm as crew members of the derailed Norfolk and Western train notify local rescue personnel at the scene what the chemical is, what danger it offers, and what should be done to make it harmless. They had the information available instantly.
This incident actually occurred, on Oct. 10 at Pembroke, Va., when a westbound NW freight train "58-77" derailed.
The leaking tank car, Engineer D. O. Strawn and Conductor F. O. White told rescue workers, contained phosphoric acid, a fertilizer ingredient.
It could cause injury if it contacted bare skin or if its fumes were inhaled. But it could be neutralized with lime, the train crewmen said.
Rescue workers did just that, and the problem was solved.
The train crewmen knew what should be done with the leaking chemical because of a new program developed by Norfolk and Western Railway designed to insure the safety of people and property all over the 45-state NW system.
The emergency response program was put into use Oct. 4, and got its first test a week later with the Pembroke derailment.
"We are strongly aware of the need for safety in the transportation of chemicals, and this program is just one of several ways NW is working to protect lives and property," said Richard F. Dunlap, NW's senior vice president-operations.

He noted that NW, like other rail carriers, moves chemical shipments every day in many of its 500 daily trains.
"Even with an extremely well-maintained and well-run railroad like NW, derailments sometimes happen," Dunlap said. "We do our best to prevent derailments, but we also must plan to cope with them when they do occur."
"Our new emergency response guide helps us to do a better and safer job in handling all kinds of chemical products." About two percent of the carsload NW handles contain some type of hazardous material.
The new program provides a set of computer-generated instructions to conductors and engineers of each train that pinpoint the location within the train and the nature of each carload of potentially hazardous material.
The guide lists appropriate firefighting measures, environmental protection measures, personnel protection procedures and evacuation measures, if necessary.
Armed with that information, train crews can provide quick information to authorities at the scene of a derailment.
The guide lists initial response actions necessary to save lives and prevent injuries. It identifies the nature of each hazardous material in the train, describes ground rules for first on-scene response by local authorities and rescue workers, and helps to provide a safer shipping environment for hazardous material.
Norfolk and Western is a pioneer in developing and using a computer-based emergency information system for train crews.
The concept has been hailed by rail labor leaders as an idea that may well save lives in case of a serious derailment emergency.

Time to prepare for gardening next year

By CHRIS DOLL
Area Garden Adviser
The frost-tolerant crops in many gardens may be nurtured and harvested as long as the weather permits. But November is the time to wind up fruit and vegetable gardening for the year, prepare for winter, and plan for the next season.
The following hints should make gardening more enjoyable and profitable next year:
1. Wait to mulch strawberries until the plants are dormant but before the temperatures drop below 20 degrees. This is usually after mid-November but before Thanksgiving. Mulching will prevent winter injury to the plant and should make for cleaner berries next spring.
2. Asparagus tops may be cut after they have been frosted or leave them stand all winter to trap the snow.
3. Check for mouse populations around fruit trees and plants. Their presence will be noted by tunnels, holes, or nibbled fruit, in which case you will need traps, bait stations, or a good cat.
4. Make provisions for storing the mice in fruit and vegetable storages. Warfarin bait is effective as long as the bait is kept dry and available.
5. Dig up and pot a plant of parsley, chives, or other herbs for winter use growing in the sunroom or on a cold frame.
6. Store pesticides in a clean, dry, safe place. Dry materials and powders will retain their effectiveness if kept dry. Liquids should not freeze. Keep storages locked to prevent any accidental poisonings.
7. Water and mulch all fruit plants transplanted this fall. Proper care may pull the plants through the winter.
8. Clean tools and equipment to prevent rust and corrosion. Make repairs now so that everything is ready for the first day of spring.
9. The southwest side of a young peach, cherry, plum and apricot trees may be painted with a quality white latex paint to prevent sunscald during the winter. The white latex paint should be diluted in half with water. Don't use oil-based paints.
10. Destroy insect and disease infested plant material by burning or burying. This includes the sunscalded fruits on or under peach and plum trees.
11. Broken limbs or branches may be pruned for cosmetic purposes, but general pruning of fruit plants should be delayed until late winter.

Insulation of crawl space recommended

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Madison County Extension Adviser.
Home Economics
Homeowners who have insulated the attic and walls of their homes need to look below the floors next, says Donald Jedele, University of Illinois Extension housing specialist.
Heat can move through floors and out the foundation walls of a crawl space.
Most crawl spaces have heating ducts and water pipes below the floor joists. If insulation is put between the floor joists, the heating ducts and water pipes should also be wrapped with insulation.
But it is cheaper, easier and just as effective to insulate the walls of the crawl space and keep the entire crawl space warm, says Jedele.
Before crawl space walls are insulated, potential problems must be eliminated. Some crawl spaces have standing water in them at times. Jedele recommends draining low areas to a sump and installing an automatic pump to pump away the free water.
The ground in every crawl space should be covered with a vapor barrier to keep moisture from evaporating from the soil. Even dry ground in the crawl space should be covered. Six-

Call-in show on family problems

"Marriage and Family" is the title of a call-in radio program being aired over WSIE-FM (88.7) every Wednesday, from 10:30 until 11:30 a.m. The radio station is located on the SIUE campus and Fred Criminger, general manager of WSIE-FM, hosts the program. Cameron W. Meredith, professor in the department of counselor education at SIUE, is a regular guest on the program, and other guests will be featured from time to time. The program is designed to respond to questions of the general public, and "calls can come in anytime during the hour about anything related to family life," Criminger said. "It doesn't have to be a big problem. Sometimes people just want to know about children who won't go to bed on time." The family life questions may be voiced toll free by calling 875-8900 and asking for extension 2227.

News notes

Emergency legislation giving the Department of Public Aid clear authority to deal with fraud by Medicaid providers and a bill creating penalties for fraudulent providers was introduced last week in the Illinois General Assembly. Sen. Don A. Moore, Middleton, who will sponsor the legislation, said the bills would fill a legal loophole and "give the (Illinois) Department of Public Aid a vehicle to effectively deal with this scandalous situation."

Governor James R. Thompson last week sent a telegram to President Carter, urging him to set an aggressive United States marketing policy for farm exports. The recommendations included were suggested by state Director of Agriculture John Block following Block's fact-finding tour of European markets. The governor urged that the U.S. make concessions that will lessen present barriers against U.S. farm products by overseas customers. He asked that federal funds for the Food for Peace Program be released and that U.S.-produced meat be sold through commissaries at our military bases in Europe if possible.

For the first time in its history the Illinois Department of Registration and Education has ordered revocation of a real estate broker's license because the broker rented apartments in slum buildings. Joan Anderson, director of the department, said the four buildings owned by the Skokie broker contained municipal code violations and other conditions that endangered the health and safety of residents.

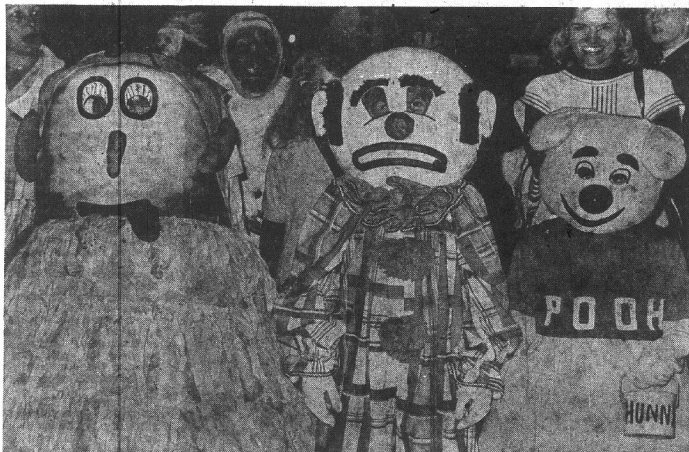

Francis J. Koenig, Streator, was elected to a one-year term as president of the Illinois State Historical Society at its 78th annual meeting in Springfield. Five new directors were chosen and will serve three-year terms. They are George Jefferson of Lawrenceville, Clifford Leonard of Princeton, Wilma Lund of Alledo, Betty Madden of Springfield, and Clyde Walton of DeKalb.

The Illinois Department of Conservation has received funds from the U.S. Department of the Interior for two state programs. The first grant, for land acquisition and recreational development projects, is the largest single year appropriation to Illinois in the 13-year history of the funding program. The other grant was made for sport fishing, wildlife restoration and hunter safety programs.

Cost raised for St. Clair

Expenditure of an additional $9,100 for improvement of St. Clair Avenue between Jill and Willow avenues was approved by the Granite City Council Tuesday night after the aldermen were told that the base of the street is not substantial and should be raised. City Engineer Monroe Brewer said to improve the street base the work will require another 693 tons of base rock at $11.50 per ton and 315 cubic yards of excavation for a total cost of $9,100. St. Clair Avenue was closed Tuesday and motorists will be required to detour around the project while the work is being completed. The street between Jill and Willow is being widened to 34 feet and curb and gutters are being installed.

Lucco spearheading projects for coal use

State Representative Jon E. Lucco (D-Edwardsville), elected as chairman of the Illinois Energy Resources Commission last week at the commission's biennial election and business meeting in Springfield, has been active on the panel for the past two years. Sen. John Nimrod (R-Glenview) was elected vice-chairman and Dr. James P. Hartnett (U. of Illinois-Chicago Circle) was chosen as secretary of the commission. Lucco was appointed to the IERC in October 1975, and was reappointed in August 1976 by House Speaker William A. Redmond.

During this time, Lucco served as chairman of the commission's intergovernmental committee. In this year's General Assembly session, he introduced major legislation for energy conservation, for solar energy feasibility, and for the consolidation and reorganization of energy agencies and divisions of state government. In accepting the chairmanship, Lucco said, "Under the dynamic leadership of our two previous chairmen, Rep. Adeline J. Geo-Karis and Sen. John L. Knuppel, the Illinois Energy Resources Commission has proven itself to be a viable and creative force in shaping the future directions that Illinois must take in order to produce and conserve its unique energy resources."

"Our job now is to move forward from our good beginnings by forging new coal development priorities and developing a comprehensive energy plan for Illinois." The commission is responsible for approving coal research projects proposed through the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development. Commission approval is necessary before any funds from a $70 million bond program can be spent for coal development projects. In addition, the commission is responsible for development of a comprehensive energy plan for Illinois.

The outgoing chairman, Sen. Knuppel (D-Virginia), has held the post for the past two years. Under state law, chairmanship of the commission must rotate every two years between the houses of the General Assembly. Ten legislators and eight public members comprise the commission members, who serve two-year terms without compensation.

Checklist for GI Bill school enrollment

A checklist for thousands of veterans going to school planning to enroll soon under the GI Bill will help keep Veterans Administration checks coming regularly, VA counselors advise.

These suggestions for veterans are offered by VA campus counselors. File for benefits at least two months prior to the beginning of the quarter. Register early.

Avoid dropping classes after registration. Double check on choice of courses to be sure they fulfill requirements for your major. If an interruption in education is necessary, notify the VA and give your expected date of return to school.

If your change addresses, promptly notify the post office, VA and the school.

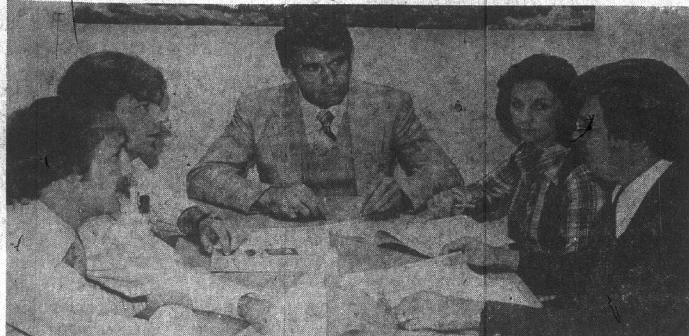

Submit transcripts to the college admissions and records office immediately after application is made. This will speed up certification to the Veterans Administration.

Students returning to school after a break were advised to consult VA campus counselors about the effect of new legislation on dropping courses and on payment procedures.

New phone books Nov. 14; old directories won't be taken

Telephone book delivery to local telephone customers will start on Nov. 14, Granite City, Illinois Bell Manager Ken Evers announced this week. Customers who have not received their new directory by Nov. 28 should call their Illinois Bell business office and delivery will be arranged, he said.

The business office telephone number is on the first page of the present directory. Additional directories may also be obtained through the business office, Evers noted. The new directory has a large "Hello" and hundreds of people printed on the cover. The "Hello" message relates to people and the customary greeting they associate with the telephone.

Evers added, "Something new has been added to many Illinois Bell directories this year to make them even more useful."

"It's called a helpful number list and appears in the call guide (how-to) section of the directory."

"The list is compiled on the basis of providing the greatest benefit to the greatest number of customers served by the directory."

"It represents agencies or organizations which provide some kind of information or help to callers, cannot be found easily in the regular white or yellow pages, that are called frequently, and that are needed most by the average citizen — according to external sources, such as social agencies and community organizations."

The Reuben H. Donnelley Corp., which distributes the telephone directory under contract to Illinois Bell, will no longer pick up old books when delivering new ones, according to Evers.

Several factors were involved, including increased costs, as reasons for discontinuing the pickups. These reasons include inaccessibility of customers, time involved in picking up directories, and uncertainties of the waste paper market.

Citing the fact that Illinois Bell is the only Bell System company in the country which was still picking up old directories, Evers said delivery personnel, however, will accept old books if the customer requests.

"But we are urging subscribers to dispose of the directories on their own," he emphasized.

Illinois Bell reports that it had a net loss of $40,000 in its pickup and salvage operations in 1976. The company said it was able to salvage only 5,000 to 6,000 tons of the 25,000 tons of directories it had printed.

"Security-consciousness had reduced directory pickups," Evers said. "Many people will no longer open their doors to strangers. He added that attempts to recover old directories from customers add considerably to the amount of time required for distribution. He said it is estimated that eliminating pickups could save more than 10 per cent of the time now required for each delivery.

Telephone directories are printed on an opaque, simple, thin paper, which can be recycled only into "soft goods" — napkins and tissues. The paper is made from pulp which comes from trees grown especially for that purpose on large commercial "tree farms."

It does not involve use of hardwood trees which are used in construction, furniture and lasting products, he added.

"The effect of recycling directories has little or no ecological impact, one way or the other," Evers stressed.

THROWN FROM AUTO Robert Schrader, 19, Edwardsville, was thrown through his auto's windshield when his car went off a roadway and down an embankment last week. He went to St. Elizabeth Hospital with small cuts to his hands and pain to his chest and head. Authorities suspected broken ribs, but Schrader declined to be admitted.

Lifelong learning emphasis

SIUE Vice-President and Provost Earl Lazerson has announced appointment of a task force charged with developing the institution's first formalized continuing education effort at the university level.

The Task Force on Continuing Education has 20 members, representing academic schools and support units, the student body, the Office of Student Affairs, and University Alumni Services. Chairman is Robert Schultheis, professor of management in the School of Business.

Asking it to "examine the issues and make recommendations on steps that should be taken in the continuing education area," Lazerson said he views the undertaking as "one of the most important initiatives of the academic year."

He explained, "This is a major effort toward moving the university in relation to new student populations... thus meeting our mandated regional mission." The university is turning more of its attention to the adult student and toward lifelong learning for the people of the area.

In a bulletin to the university community, Lazerson said he appointed the task force because "specific decisions regarding programs for continuing and adult education must be made." He expects the group "to facilitate this and to make available improved information on this topic."

It will prepare a position paper covering purposes to be served, local area needs, potential clientele and programs, resources required, possible program formats, and proposed organizational structuring.

The task force also will collect program data, interact with other institutions with developed continuing education programs, discuss possibilities for expanding current programs at SIUE, and consider relationships between continuing education and public service activities.

The task force will report preliminary findings during a winter quarter and deliver a final report in the fall of 1978. SIUE President Kenneth A. Shaw will present information on the university's current continuing education program and activities in a detailed report to the SIUE Board of Trustees Nov. 10.

Highlighted will be "a host of offerings" through the School of Business, School of Education, Graduate School, School of Humanities, School of Nursing, School of Dental Medicine, School of Social Sciences, the Delinquency Study and Youth Development Center, General Studies Division, Urban Studies Program, and the Office of Off-Campus Programs, which includes the Open University and the Office of Conferences and Institutes.

Many more programs which will provide a wide range of educational opportunities and public service activities are in the planning stages, Lazerson said.

Dear Homeowner:

After years of research and the expenditure of huge sums of money, Nailite scientists developed the perfect formulation for a stone and brick siding that rivals nature in looks and durability. So rugged is this new material that it will never need painting or any other type of maintenance.

This remarkable siding, made by Nailite, insulates against both cold and heat, means a healthier, more comfortable home in summer and winter; plus helps in reducing your fuel bills.

Mail the reply card today for the free gift plus a free, no obligation, estimate. You'll be surprised at how little it costs to make your home into a showcase—now and for the trouble-free, money-saving years ahead!

Nailite siding, made by Nailite, is now available at a price EVERYONE CAN AFFORD!

More help in lowering your fuel and electric bills all year-round. The sun's heat is reflected from the foil in summer to keep interiors cooler. Radiated heat is reflected in the winter to help keep the home warmer and cut fuel bills.

It is easy to see from the above photos of a typical Nailite installation why Nailite is the first choice of architects, builders and homeowners alike. Here is permanent beauty and insulation on any type of building or home in one easy application. It requires no costly foundation work that entails digging, trenching, or pouring of concrete. No damage to landscaping, shrubs or lawn. No dirt, no noise, no waste and no bothersome construction equipment. Get the free facts today!

Get the facts on the beginning of a new way of relaxed living for the folks at your house. Learn how the patented Contour chair lounge has created a revolution in chair design—how this significant development can make a vital change in your way of life . . . and in the lives of those you love.

Not that everyone thinks the Contour chair lounge is ugly, mind you. Folks across the country have been buying them for, maybe, twenty-five years. And there must be a million families now who bought them because they liked their looks . . . and later discovered they had bought not just another pretty piece for the living room or den . . . but almost a new way of life.

How important can a mere chair be to your life style? For the answer to that, you'll have to look beyond the usual ideas of what a chair should look like. What you really must consider is what it was made to do for you.

But let's first consider what the ordinary lounge chair can't do. Would you believe . . . it was never made to support the human body the way scientists . . . people who specialize in such matters . . . tell us it should be supported if we are to enjoy the real rest and relaxation we hope we are buying.

If you will take a moment to answer the few questions that follow, we promise, you'll see for yourself what we mean.

Picture that conventional easy chair in your living room or den. Then try to figure out how you can rest your head. By slouching down so you're resting the bulk of your body weight on your spine? That's not going to be comfortable for very long.

What do you do with your legs? Cross them? Then recross them? Rest them on the cocktail table? On another chair? Or on an ottoman? All of these positions tend to restrict circulation or result in the concentration of an undue proportion of your weight on a single area of your body. None of them can have you comfortable for very long.

How would you elevate your legs in a restful position? Sure, it feels good to raise them above the body level—and they tell us it's good for you. But how do you accomplish this in an ordinary chair—aside from leaning your legs up against the wall?

THE WORLD'S ONLY YOU SHAPED CHAIR—AND WHAT IT CAN MEAN TO YOU

A recent non-fiction best seller provides direction for self-help in achieving total body relaxation. It reports that one of the causes of continued muscular tension is a continued need for self-support, elevation or movement of portions of the body. These activities entail the use of muscles, and muscles in use are muscles in tension. Real relaxation cannot be attained while this muscle tension takes place.

Man has been making chairs of every description for thousands of years. But not until recent times has anyone thought of making a chair that will conform to the contours of the human form. Not until Contour Chair designed its chair lounge with you in mind was there any form of seating that takes into account the way nature had fashioned your body. Not until Contour has there been a chair that curves the way you do. Today, Contour is still the only chair that can provide you with the kind of support for the total and continuing relaxation that your body requires.

Contour® the Chair Lounge that CRADLES you as no cradle ever did.

It provides full support for your head in any position

Because the Contour chair lounge is available in a size that is compatible with your height, because it curves to provide gentle support for your head and neck, there is no longer the need for tensing your neck muscles while you're trying to relax. And this support is maintained in any chair position—upright, fully reclined . . . and in all positions in between.

It provides gentle support for the small of your back

In addition to relieving you of the usual body weight pressures on the lower back and thighs, the "kidney roll" design feature provides gentle support for the small of the back. This support and these substantially reduced pressures add to your seating comfort.

It elevates your knees in a "floating" position, raises and supports your legs

In a Contour chair lounge, your legs are always fully supported and comfortably raised . . . even above the body level . . . and for as long as you may desire. No longer need you cross and recross your legs—or seek the elevated support you require for the full rest and relaxation you need.

Contour with built-in leg rest takes less space

. . . Than club chair with ottoman. The average overall Contour chair lounge length is only 53"—and it's only 27" wide. . . . Than tilt back recliners. Compare Contour's average 53" x 27" dimensions with those of most reclining chairs. You'll find they're over 64" long, 33" wide. And there's no need to position the Contour chair lounge away from the wall.

It provides equalized support for your total body weight

As shown in the sketches below, there is no longer a need for constantly shifting your sitting position because of excessive weight concentration on the hip area of your body. Contour's unique design places you in a virtually a free floating position.

In Upright Position—only 31.4% of body weight supported by hip area.

FULL BODY MASSAGE & CONTROLLED HEAT

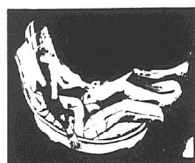

A truly relaxing experience that may be different from anything you've ever known. A remarkably effective aid to increased circulation in the areas of contact . . . whenever applied. How relaxing and how pleasurable this can be you will know only when you've felt it for yourself.
